PLEASE-ALL BUDGET THAT STAYS THE COURSE

ANALYSIS

Income tax relief timed with polls

SUNITHA NATTI

IF there's luck in the last helping, it arrived in good measure on Wednesday. Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman emerged as the ultimate accounting bar mitzvah, making the government's last full Budget before general elections, a Budget for the bourgeois.

If modern dictionaries define bourgeois as the middle class, the old world Marxism reserved it for capitalists. Slice it whichever way you want, Sitharaman unabashedly catered to both the classes, and the poor. Importantly, it supports India's aspirations of a middle-income economy, and so for Sitharaman and team, this Budget is as much about winning 2024 as marching beyond towards India@100.

Until now, the middle-class' wait for tax breaks was like the world's search for Vitamin-D and sunshine. That search ended with the FM announcing an unexpected tax bonanza, foregoing ₹35,000 crore revenue. This isn't a significant sum, and could have been offered earlier. But, generosity comes blazing during elections and as they say, nearer the bone, sweeter the meat.

Of the ₹45 lakh crore expenditure Budget for FY24, the actual increase is only ₹3.16 lakh crore. Of this, revenue expenditure jump of all 84 ministries is just ₹43,000 crore, as if coming from the Treasury's coin purse.

Among the priority list, capital expenditure is number one, two and three. Whatever is in the rest of the list is far behind. Capex saw wheelbarrows of currency notes totalling ₹10 lakh crore, which perhaps Sitharaman hopes will have an electrifying effect like the Kantara cry (Voooooooooo) that echoes long after the movie watching. The allocation will help withstand global headwinds should the world step on the next banana skin and slip into a slowdown, if not a recession.

Gross tax revenue growth is pegged at 10.4%, not the cheeriest at all. But of late, the gap between Budget estimates and actuals are as far apart as grandmothers' teeth. Under promising and over delivery is a good strategy, but that doesn't apply to national accounting, whose credibility lies on FM's fiscal marksmanship.

As for fiscal deficit, markets get anxious just by rattling the sword in its sheath, so the FM set herself a fantastic chase in her hands anchoring deficit at 5.9% for FY24. The biggest setback was privatisation. The government remains wedded to the idea, but like married couples, they are taking some time apart.

Delivering one fantastic Budget is much; two many; three impossible. But not for Sitharaman. If Budget 2021 redefined her role as FM, the latest one takes it further. Balancing income, expenditure and debt is as challenging as aligning one's mind, body and soul. More so, during crises. With plenty of practice, she has showed the world how prudence can be the biggest weapon.

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

AT first look, Budget 2023-24 may appear populist. But on closer examination, it turns out not to be the case. The smart packaging by Union finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman and her team at the North Block has made it look populist but remain firmly on the path of fiscal consolidation. The ₹45-lakh crore Budget has steered clear of too many freebies and unnecessary expenditures, and yet made an allocation here and there to please all sections.

The Budget turns out to be an exercise on expenditure and tax rationalisation. The government has tightened its belt on the fiscal front with the fiscal deficit target for FY24 brought down to 5.9%, a 50 basis-point reduction from FY23.

While the overall expenditure in FY24 has seen a 7.5% rise over the revised estimate for FY23, bulk of the increase is due to a sharp uptick in capital expenditure or capex — spending for infrastructure and asset creation. The capex spending in 2023-24 has been increased by 33% to ₹10 lakh crore from ₹7.3 lakh crore (revised estimate) in FY23. Capital expenditure has almost trebled since 2019-20.

"This substantial increase in recent years is central to the government's efforts to enhance growth potential and job creation, crowd-in private investments, and provide a cushion against global headwinds," Sitharaman said in her Budget speech.

Revenue expenditure — administrative expenses used for paying salaries, pensions and subsidies — has seen only a modest 1.25% increase over the revised estimate for FY23. The fertiliser and food subsidy bill is budgeted at a lower level in FY24 than the revised estimate of FY23. Among other major cuts in allocation is for MNREGA, where the amount for the next financial year is kept at ₹60,000 crore, down from ₹90,000 crore (revised estimate) for FY23.

"A higher non-interest and non-subsidy revenue expenditure would provide the much-needed support to the economy recovery," said India Ratings in a note.

Income tax payers – especially the salaried class – have something to cheer, but all the benefits are reserved for the new tax regime, which was not gaining traction.

Notably, the upper limit for income tax rebate has been increased from ₹5 lakh to ₹7 lakh for those who opt for the new tax regime. Also, the surcharge on income above ₹5 crore has been reduced from 37% to 25%, bringing down the highest personal income tax rate from 42.7% to 39%. The basic exemption limit has also been raised from ₹2.5 lakh to ₹3 lakh.

While the government has extended some tax benefits, it has also tried plugging the loopholes used by tax evaders. One of the moves includes removing tax exemptions on withdrawal from all insurance schemes if annual premium is above ₹5 lakh crore.

The Budget pegs the nominal GDP to grow at 10.5% to ₹302 lakh crore in FY24, slightly lower than what the Economic Survey report had estimated (11.1%). The government has pegged the gross tax revenue to grow at 9.5% to ₹33.6 lakh crore over the revised FY23 estimate of ₹30 lakh crore. It means, the new financial year might not be able to drive revenue growth like FY23.

Nirmala's Ilkal saree was crafted in Dharwad

AMIT S UPADHYE @ Hubballi

KARNATAKA can take pride in the General Budget presented by Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Wednesday for at least two reasons. The minister is a Rajya Sabha member from Karnataka and the saree she chose to wear while presenting the Budget was made in the state.

The handwoven Ilkal silk saree, which is 5.5 metres long and weighs about 900 gm, was made by experts using kasuti (embroidery) art in Dharwad.

Aarati Hiremath, founder of Aarati Crafts in Dharwad, said the special saree was woven in 10 days. The order was placed by the local office of the ministry of textiles. The saree carries designs of chariots, gopuras, peacocks and lotus.

Aarati said she was only told that the saree is required for the office of the finance minister. "I was thinking it could be for gifting it to someone. But ever since we saw Nirmalaji in that saree while presenting the Budget, my phone has not stopped ringing. The ministry had placed the order for the saree beforehand, giving us enough time to work on the it. The bill too was cleared by the ministry before the product was ready," she said.

Rukaiya Bandunavar, the artist who worked on the saree, says it's a huge honour for her and many co-artisans. "We carefully weaved the designs on the saree. It takes time to craft each design and complete the saree," she explained. "This gesture of the minister will surely encourage rural woman workers," said Aarati.

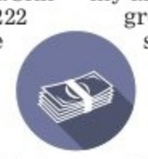
₹35,000 cr for net-zero carbon emission target

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

ONE of the major highlights of Budget 2023-24 was the focus on green energy. Reiterating India's commitment to meet the target of achieving net-zero carbon emission by 2070, Union finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman allocated ₹10,222 crore for the renewable energy sector and ₹35,000 crore to the Ministry of Petroleum & Natural Gas for energy storage projects.

The Budget has earmarked ₹297 crore for the National Green Hydrogen Mission. The FM said the government would facilitate transition of the economy to low-carbon intensity, reduce dependence on fossil fuel imports and make the country assume technology and market leadership in this sunrise sector.

She said the country targets to produce 5 mmt green hydrogen by 2030. The Cabinet had in January 2023 approved ₹19,700 crore for the National Green Hydrogen Mission. "We are implementing many programmes for green fuel, green energy, green farming, green mobility, green buildings, green equipment, and policies for efficient use of energy across various economic sectors. These green growth efforts help in reducing carbon intensity of the economy and provide for large-scale green job opportunities," she added.



The government's efforts since 2014 have ensured for all citizens a better quality of living and a life of dignity. The per capita income has more than doubled to ₹1.97 lakh

Nirmala Sitharaman, Finance Minister

The government plans to construct an inter-state transmission system for evacuation and grid integration of 13 GW energy in Ladakh with an investment of ₹20,700 crore, including Central support of ₹8,300 crore.

It will also support battery energy storage systems with a total capacity of 4,000 MWh through viability gap funding.

The finance minister said that the Centre will take forward the vehicle scrapping policy mentioned in Budget 2021-22 by allocating adequate funds to scrap old vehicles of the central government. States will also be supported in replacing old vehicles and ambulances, Sitharaman added.

STOCKS HAMMERED, ADANI CALLS OFF FPO

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

ADANI Enterprises (AEL) late on Wednesday night announced its decision not to go-ahead with its fully subscribed follow-on public offer (FPO) for ₹20,000 crore, a day after it barely managed to sail through.

The Adani Group's stock prices got hammered earlier in the day with AEL shares closing 28% lower at ₹2,128.70. This was below the FPO price band of ₹3,112-3,276 per share.

Gautam Adani, chairman, Adani Enterprises, said, "Today the market has been unprecedented, and our stock price has fluctuated over the course of the day. Given these extraordinary circumstances, the Company's board felt that going ahead with the issue will not be morally correct." He added that the process to refund the funds received for subscription has been initiated.

The group's stocks crashed up to 35% amidst reports that the Credit Suisse Group has assigned a zero-lending value for notes sold by Adani Ports and Special Economic Zone, Adani Green Energy and Adani Electricity Mumbai Ltd.

With this fresh fall, the port-to-power conglomerate's market capitalisation (m-cap) has fallen by ₹7.44 lakh crore in five consecutive trading sessions, translating to a loss of one-third of its total value.

The combined m-cap of the Adani Group stocks now stands at ₹11.76 lakh crore, down from ₹19.20 lakh crore, which was the closing value on January 24.

With this, Adani lost his Asia's richest billionaire title to Mukesh Ambani, chairman of Reliance Industries Ltd.

'Need clarity on funding of infra projects in smaller cities'

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

UNION Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Wednesday announced that an Urban Infrastructure Development Fund (UIDF) will be established on the lines of the Rural Infrastructure Development Fund, which is expected to help state governments transform their cities into 'sustainable cities' in the coming years. Experts, however, state that there is lack of clarity on the funds needed to create urban infrastructure in Tier 2 and Tier 3 cities.

"Like the RIDF, a UIDF will be established through use of priority sector lending shortfall. This will be managed by the National Housing Bank, and will be used by public agencies to create urban infrastructure in Tier 2 and Tier 3 cities," Nirmala said in her Budget speech.

She added that states will be encouraged to leverage resources from grants of the 15th Finance Commission, as well as existing schemes, to adopt appropriate user charges, while accessing the UIDF. "We expect to make available Rs 10,000 crore per annum for this purpose," she mentioned.

Federation of Karnataka Chamber Of Commerce and Industries Vice-President MG Balakrishna said, "The idea is good, but will the Centre itself fund urban infrastructure in Tier 2 and 3 cities, or should the state also contribute? This bit lacks clarity."

Balakrishna, however, lauded the Budget, saying it is advantage for agriculture, pharma, and infrastructure. He added that it was favourable to MSME depositors.

Rs 1,350 cr for Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project

Not a rupee released by Centre from similar sum promised last yr

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

A total of Rs 1,350 crore has been announced in the Union Budget for the 148-km Bengaluru Suburban Rail Project (BSRP) with the Railways set to fund Rs 450 crore and the remaining to be mobilised through other sources. However, not a single rupee has been released by the Centre from a similar sum earmarked for the project in the previous financial year too, sources said.

The state is expected to announce funds on similar lines in its upcoming budget on February 17 as the Rs 15,767 crore project, being implemented by the nodal agency, Karnataka Rail Infrastructure Development Enterprises (K-RIDE), is a joint venture between the Karnataka government and the Railway Ministry. The funding pattern is on the lines of 20% each by the two governments with 60% to be mobilised through other revenue streams.

The Union Budget for 2023-2024 has specified that Rs 900 crore will be mobilised through internal and external budgetary resources. Asked to specify details, a top source said the exact details are still being worked out. "Railways has large parcels of land across its South Western Railway Zone. They have been handed over to the Rail Land Development Authority. We will most probably mobilise our resources through them," he said. Another option is by taking loans from LIC or other government agencies.

However, the shocking part is that with the present financial year set to conclude within two months, the Railways has not even released a single rupee of the Rs 450-crore fund promised for the ongoing financial year (2022-2023).

Asked about the reasons for the delay, a source said, "Files have been moving to and from across the Railways, the Constructions Division, the Headquarters at Hubballi and the Railway Board. We have been told to raise the authorised share capital of K-RIDE from Rs 100 crore to Rs 5,000 crore. Only if that is done would we be able to take on board funds above Rs 100 crore." It was a long process involving documentation at various levels and it has been finally completed three weeks ago, he added.

BBMP official hails municipal bonds, expert has doubts

MOHAMMED YACOOB
@Bengaluru

AFTER Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman stated that municipal bodies will be allowed to issue bonds for improving their infrastructure, and cities will be incentivised to improve their credit worthiness over the bonds, BBMP Special Commissioner for Finance, Jayaram Raipura, welcomed the move.

Reading out the Budget speech in the Lok Sabha, Nirmala said, "Through property tax governance reforms and ring-fencing user charges on urban infrastructure, cities will be incentivised to improve their credit worthiness for municipal bonds."

Raipura said that in order to overcome financial crises and strengthen financial discipline in municipal bodies, the Centre has allowed municipal bodies to issue 'Municipal Bonds' through which development of infrastructure projects can also be taken up. The escrow mechanism will have to be set up for that purpose and the borrowings have to be settled through property taxes and other revenue by municipalities.

He further added that, however, it depends on the state government as it has to check the pros and cons of a municipal body and its fitness for issuing bonds.

Agreeing with Raipura, former Standing Committee chairman of BBMP Finance Department, MK Gunashekar, said, "This is a good move as it will make urban local bodies financially disciplined. If the credit rate is good and the local body shows its capacity in repaying the loan, the bonds issued by the municipality will have value."

Experts opined that since the municipal bodies have their assets, they can pledge and issue bonds, and charge interest. The funds raised are used for projects and for showing success.

While officials welcomed the move, urban expert Ashwin Mahesh expressed doubt over its working.

"Strengthening municipal finances is a good idea, and bonds that can finance new initiatives are potentially good too. But there is a contradiction in the way the Centre and states think about this. The BBMP, for example, is financially in a mess. But more importantly, it is in a governance mess. The two have to be fixed together. But what is happening now is that the poor administration is ignored, while we conjure up schemes for many other things. It's unrealistic to think that will work," he said.

A futuristic and growth-oriented budget. I welcome the opening of 157 new medical nursing colleges as it will help address human resource needs of the health sector. The mission to eliminate sickle cell anaemia with universal screening will help build a healthier India. The decision to make facilities in selected ICMR labs available for research by public and private medical college faculty will encourage collaborative research.

Dr K Sudhakar, Health Minister

A forward-looking budget that will benefit the country for the next 25 years. The National Digital Library to provide quality books in various languages to children and adults will improve the habit of reading among children and adults, and help in the acquisition of knowledge and education. The Cente has provided more grants for the education sector. The government has given a gift to the middle class by increasing the tax limit.

BC Nagesh, Education Minister

The Centre should play a role in terms of capacity building, models for inclusive planning, and sharing of best practices. They should stay away from user charges etc, which are not even the business of state governments. Helping cities build credit worthiness and eligibility for municipal bonds is a welcome step. Citizens are proud of their cities and are more than willing to invest in their own cities, provided a stable bond market is available.

Srinivas Alavilli, Citizen activist

Joining public and private research through selected ICMR labs should be taken with a pinch of salt. ICMR has an important role of overseeing clinical trials and other health-related research on diseases of priority, and opening the door to private players could lead to conflict of interest and dilution of ICMR's role. The increase in overall health expenditure will be helpful only when it is directed more towards the public health sector.

Dr Sylvia Karpagam, public health doctor

The focus on R&D, supporting us to invest in research will enable us to reach higher standards in education. With this, our contribution towards the nation will be enhanced.

Budget looks to keep sanitation workers safe

BENGALURU: In a move that could prevent sanitation workers dying on duty, as they scale down manholes and enter septic tanks, and thus ensuring their safety, the Union Budget on Wednesday announced deployment of technology for cleaning purposes. "All cities and towns will be enabled for 100 per cent mechanical desludging of septic tanks and sewers to transition from manhole to machine hole mode," it said. There will be much thrust on scientific management of dry and wet waste, the budget document added. Water conservation expert Vishwanath S expressed his relief over the move. "This is a welcome first step in eliminating the abhorrent practice of manual scavenging. The scientific management of septic tank waste will enable nutrient recovery and farmers potentially benefit from this treated sludge," he said.

ACADEMIA, INDUSTRY APPLAUD PUSH FOR AI

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

THE Budget announcement on setting up of three centres of excellence (COE) for Artificial Intelligence (AI) at top educational institutions has received overwhelming response from academia and industry.

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman, presenting the Union Budget, said, "For realising the vision of 'Make AI in India' and 'Make AI work for India', three centres for excellence will be set up in top educational institutions. Leading industry players will partner in conducting interdisciplinary research and develop cutting-edge applications and scalable problem solutions in areas of agriculture, health and sustainable cities. This will galvanize an effective ecosystem and nurture quality human resources in the field."

International Institute of Information Technology Bangalore (IIITB) Director Prof Debabrata Das told TNIE this was a timely and good move. "AI is a thrust area for which there are applications in multiple sectors, from space, defence and security to data, communication, health, agriculture, transportation and smart cities etc. India should do deep research and come out with some more indigenous algorithms which will lead to more Intellectual Property Rights (IPRs) of our nation," said Das. He added that these COE will "help solve India's challenges which require AI-ML (machine learning)-based technologies for optimised performance".

"The government's focus on integrating technology and aiding agriculture, healthcare and education verticals need to be applauded. A big boost has been given to AI, with the setting up of three COE in top education institutes under the guidance of industry veterans," said CEO, Crayon Software Experts India, Rajendra Chitale. He added that this will "further our efforts in easing our lives and achieving better outcomes with the help of AI. We are certainly looking ahead to the government's National Data Governance Policy which aims at anonymizing individual data. This is of much need when data is the main ingredient for 360-degree development".

"The focus on AI development and deployment by multiple initiatives such as the setting up of AI labs and upskilling youth in software and hardware tech, will create an ecosystem which will act as a catalyst for Indian tech and startup ecosystem, to catapult itself as the benchmark globally and also provide the next generation of tech visionaries and leaders for the world," said founder and Group CEO, Purple Quarter, Roopa Kumar.

"These COE will undoubtedly serve as a bridge between educational institutions and leading industries, with the goal of researching and developing practical AI applications across different verticals, including agriculture, health and sustainable cities. Furthermore, the focus on building a strong AI ecosystem in India and training skilled AI professionals will assist new businesses in acquiring the right talent. This also puts a lot of responsibility on education institutes to strengthen the curriculum in the field," said co-founder and Director, SuperBot (Pinnacle-Works) Sarvagya Mishra.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
It's a reasonably emotional day when all is said and done, and you may discover rare strains of sentimentality deep in your astrological psyche. Put family members first, and let friends and colleagues wait their turn. What you need is order, where once there was chaos!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
You should not expect to get your way over a professional matter. If you do succeed, all well and good, but otherwise you should be patient and accept that for any ambition to be fulfilled, the time must be right. There's little to be gained from fighting battles you can't win - and a great deal to be lost.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You may be inclined to distance yourself from certain events in your past, and in the future you might concentrate more on schemes designed to broaden your horizons. The crucial factor, though, is how much you can really afford. The first step, then, is to count your cash.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
There will definitely be a few emotional ups and downs today, and even the occasional misunderstanding, most likely around midday. Stay on your toes and keep an eye on the beneficial long-term pattern. And don't get too upset by people who pick up the wrong end of the stick.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
There could be a mystery to solve, perhaps a lost possession or mislaid instructions. There could even be an element of farce if other people fail to keep appointments or just generally miss the point! The best advice? Probably to hang on to your sense of humour.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Once in a while you are given a moment to pause, to come up for air and take your bearings. This must be one such time, and if you can possibly work out exactly who is doing what, you'll get a very much better notion of your own future role - and a good thing, too!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Events which take place now could make you less inclined to count the cost of a relationship which may have lost its glitter. In other words, be thankful for what you have, and don't expect people to be things they're not! Sometimes happiness flows from appreciating what you've got.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
There are no simple solutions. However, you can ensure that others take you at your word, and give you the necessary backing. The emotional situation at the moment could be rather fraught if you fail to notice that partners require ten times the normal dose of affection.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You have learnt many harsh lessons in the past, but now you must take on the hardest of all - to trust other people. Fortunately, the emotional issues seem to be slight, so only practical problems need to be faced. Partners will appreciate a business like approach.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Your chart is like a maze, and it's all a question of finding your way to the heart of the matter. For reasons best known to yourself, you appear to be caught between two emotional choices. These seem to relate to family members rather than friends or lovers, and the solutions are right under your nose!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
An opportunity which materialises some time over the next few weeks could enable you to make a completely fresh start. The absolutely vital point now is to talk about all your plans, even at the risk of being thought silly. If partners don't understand you, that's their problem!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You are in a creative mood, and both at work and at home you should find ways to enjoy even the dullest activities. If new purchases or investments are under scrutiny, keep talking and check the facts. You'll be in a much stronger position if you actually know what's going on.

Child rape-murder: Accused is mum's lover

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE 26-year-old accused involved in the rape and murder of a three-year-old girl in Kamakshipalya police station limits, has been identified as the paramour of the girl's mother. He is said to have been under the influence of alcohol and ganja when he committed the heinous crime on Monday afternoon.

He was arrested around 7pm Tuesday.

The woman from Bagalkot, a single parent who had separated from her husband over domestic violence, worked in a garment factory and was staying with her daughter in Kaveripura. When she returned home from the factory, she found her daughter lying unconscious. She called her paramour to help her shift the child to hospital. The accused helped to move the child to hospital, where he learnt that she had died.

When the woman grew suspicious and questioned him, he is alleged to have beaten her. The woman immediately approached police with the help of neighbours. The accused and the woman have known each other since the last one year.

He allegedly killed the girl by hitting her on the head with a blunt weapon. Police found injury marks on her head. The body was shifted to Victoria Hospital mortuary for postmortem.

Kamakshipalya police registered a case under different sections of POCSO for rape and murder. Investigations are on.

Delay in filing case: K'taka HC orders inquiry against cop

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has directed the Director General and Inspector General of Police (DG&IGP) to hold a departmental inquiry against KY Praveen, police inspector attached to Cottonpet Police Station, who is placed under suspension.

Praveen was charged with failure to file a complaint against one M Vinayaka and his followers who allegedly broke open the door of his house and stole several valuables in March 2021.

The high court has given three months time to submit the report.

While disposing of the petition filed by M Prakash, Justice M Nagaprasanna said, "The crime was registered five months and 21 days after the magistrate's direction to register and investigate. Therefore, there has been blatant callousness on the part of the Station House Officer of Cottonpet Police Station, who displayed a lackadaisical attitude towards registration of the crime."

IN THE HC

The petitioner had moved the magistrate's court by filing a private complaint seeking directions to register his complaint. Accordingly, an order was passed on April 29, 2022, but the complaint was not registered.

The state defended its action by stating that the court's police constable collected the order of the magistrate on May 4, 2022 and kept the intimation on the table of the inspector Praveen. Due to oversight, the officer lost sight of the case, the state told the court and informed that the chargesheet was filed on January 7, 2023.

The court noted that the failure to register the crime by the officer cannot be brushed aside as a mere loss of file and tracing of it.

All the four have been arrested. They were taken by the police to the ghat to show the place where the body was disposed," D Devaraj, DCP (North), told the media. The murder was committed at a shed owned by Bharath in Bydarahalli on Monday evening."Kumar was looking after the girl and was also funding her education. She is an engineering student. AMRIT KAAL, SAYS BJP; 'REALLY?' SCOFFS OPPN

Growth-oriented and futuristic, praises BJP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Benglauru

THE ruling BJP leaders termed the Union Budget as futuristic and growth-oriented.

Calling it 'Amrit Kaal' budget, former chief minister BS Yediyurappa said Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman's budget is futuristic and provides a clear roadmap to drive India's growth towards a 5 trillion Dollar economy. "The budget recognises the contribution of middle class by addressing their concerns and offers something for everyone" he stated. He thanked Prime Minister Narendra Modi for announcing Rs 5,300 crore in central assistance for Upper Bhadra Project (UBP).

The budget will benefit every section of society giving an impetus to the Atmanirbhar Bharat vision, said Health and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar. The central assistance of Rs 5,300 crore for the UBP will immensely benefit the people of Chikkamagaluru, Chitradurga, Tumakuru, and Davanagere districts by providing irrigation facilities to farmers and recharging the groundwater table to provide drinking water in drought-prone areas, he added. The minister said that special focus on promoting millets will ensure better nutrition and health among citizens and boost the fight against climate change. The budget also addressed the concerns of the hardworking salaried middle class by increasing the income tax exemption limit, he said.

The announcement to enhance the export competitiveness of marine products, particularly shrimps, by reducing duty on key inputs for domestic manufacture of shrimp feed shall contribute to the growth of marine exports from Karnataka, said Industries Minister Murugesh R Nirani.

BJP national general Secretary CT Ravi said the budget truly embraces the 'Sabka Saath Sabka Vikas' vision outlined by PM Modi. The budget will benefit every section of society and more emphasis is given to SC,ST and Backward Classes, said BJP State General Secretary and MLC N Ravi Kumar.

Congress calls it anti-poor & pro-rich

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CONGRESS Legislature Party leader and former chief minister Siddaramaiah slammed the Union Budget calling it "anti-poor and pro-rich".

"It is a very disappointing budget that neglected agriculture, irrigation, rural development, social welfare and many other important schemes, said the Leader of the Opposition in the State Assembly. The Congress leader said the allocation for the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act 2005 (MGNREGA) has been reduced by Rs 29,000 and it will have an impact on creating employment in rural areas, he added.

"There is nothing for Karnataka in the budget, except for the announcement on the Upper Bhadra project, but that too is subject to conditions. The Centre announced Rs 5300 crore for the project, but the total project cost is around Rs 23,000 crore," he said, adding that the Union Government has not even clarified that the funds will be released in one year or five years.

The Badami MLA said that the State Government will not be able to spend any money or take up the project till the Centre issues a notification on the Upper Krishna project. The former CM also said Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and Water Resources Minister Govind Karjol had claimed that it will get the national project status and 50% of the project cost will be provided by the Centre, but no such announcement was made in the budget.

On the new Income Tax slabs, the former CM said the government claimed that it has increased the income limit, but at the same time, it has cut the corporate tax by 8% to help big corporates.

Congress MP DK Suresh said that the Centre failed to provide employment to youth and there is nothing in the budget for Karnataka.

Nothing substantial, only promises, rues JDS

Senior JDS leader and former CM HD Kumaraswamy said that Karnataka expected to get something substantial in the Union Budget ahead of Assembly polls, but received only promises and assurances. "Obviously, the presentation of the Union Budget has been made attractive and remember this budget comes months before the state elections," Kumaraswamy told at the party's Pancharatna Yatre at Harihar in Davanagere district. "Whatever announcements that they make now will only be implemented after the elections in Karnataka. The role of the new government that will assume power will be to implement these budget proposals. The earlier budget announcements have remained only on paper .... so many railway projects are still pending for the last 25 years... While they claimed that if a double-engine government came to power, they would do everything... but how is it that in the three years that they have not done anything to Karnataka. BJP leaders go to poll-bound states and announce thousands of crores of rupees worth of new projects? ... and after the elections they disappear," he added.

Satisfies many expectations and promises a better tomorrow

THERE are varied expectations about this year's budget on three important counts. First, the problems of unemployment and inflation were being highlighted very strongly, therefore, it was expected that the budget would provide solutions to these issues. Second, most political analysts felt this would be a pre-election budget as the current government may not present a full budget next year due to elections. Therefore, in the usual culture of a budget, many pacifiers were expected but the government thinking is against freebies, hence, it was difficult to do that. Three, the finance minister had a task to maintain fiscal discipline under the Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management Act.

Besides these three important expectations, the government was committed to boost growth, bring in investment and create an atmosphere that satisfies many. The budget satisfies most groups in society, and is possibly a budget that may be liked by many. There are promises which will yield results only after some lag, but under the expectation of these results, one can look forward to a better tomorrow.

Coming to the fiscal part of the budget, it is interesting that the total tax revenue increased from Rs 23.48 lakh crore to Rs 26.3 lakh crore, an increase of about Rs 3 lakh crore. This is a substantial gain on the revenue side, especially contributed by the new GST regime. The non-tax revenue is slated to increase by about Rs 40,000 crore. On the expenditure side, the finance minister has pegged the total expenditure at Rs 45 lakh crore, giving an increase of about Rs 4 lakh crore. The effective revenue deficit, therefore, comes to Rs 8.69 lakh crore, and that is only 2.9% of the GDP. Hence, fiscal prudence is quite visible in the budgetary computations.

Given this situation, there are a few important announcements made in the budget with reduction in Customs duty, and also changes in direct taxation rules. As a result, of these changes in direct tax proposals, revenue loss will be about Rs 38,000 crore, of which Rs 37,000 crore will be from direct taxes and Rs 1,000 crore from indirect taxes. But some of the increased excise and customs duties will yield about Rs 3,000 crore added to the revenue side. With all these fiscal rigmaroles, fiscal deficit has been pegged at 5.9% of the GDP, with a promise that it will go below 4% in the coming years.

Among the achievements during the earlier year, the finance minister mentioned 11.7 crore toilets under Swachh Bharat Mission, 9.6 crore LPG connections under Ujjwala scheme, 220 crore Covid vaccination shots, 47.8 crore PM Jan Dhan bank accounts, insurance cover for 44.6 crore persons under PM Suraksha Bima and PM Jeevan Jyoti Yojana, and cash transfer of Rs 2.2 lakh crore to over 11.4 crore farmers under PM Kisan Samman Nidhi.

The investment in infrastructure will certainly bring more employment to rural areas, besides digital public infrastructure for agriculture, which will help farmers in most of the important components. If this works on the mobile platform, it will certainly be useful, along with the newly introduced Agriculture Accelerator Fund. The revamping of banking regulations and centrally creating a database for Primary Agriculture Credit Cooperative Societies, with a link to the policymakers, will create a positive atmosphere and help further development decentralisation. Horticulture development as well as fisheries received significant attention in the budget.

Among the three challenges confronted by the Finance Minister, she has successfully created an atmosphere for increasing employment, controlled inflation to the RBI cap and shown fiscal prudence in preparing the budget.

In an overall analysis, the budget seems to be a do-good budget where most of the components are taken care of to satisfy as many groups in society as possible. Then can we presume that it has satisfied our myriad expectations?

INDUSTRY BODIES WELCOME PEOPLE-FRIENDLY BUDGET

INDUSTRIES

BENGALURU: Industry bodies have termed the Budget development-oriented and progressive. FKCCI president BV Gopal Reddy said it is a progressive, development-oriented and a people-friendly budget. He welcomed the decision to do away with many compliances to ensure ease of doing business as it will unleash the potential of the economy. An additional corpus of Rs.9,000 crore has been announced for the MSME credit guarantee, but they have to wait and see how fast it will reach the beneficiary. Karnataka Small Scale Industries Association said the budget rightly emphasizes several critical sectors that require special attention. The emphasis on green hydrogen and renewable energy besides agriculture are welcome proposals as also the increased allocation and focus on skilling, KASSIA said and added that the MSEs deserve a great deal more as most are capital starved and do not have access to collateral-free credit at affordable costs. "The increase of scope of Digi locker for MSMEs and the proposal of Jan Vishwas bill to amend 42 laws will further help in reducing compliance requirements for industry," said KASSIA president KN Narasimhamurthy. Dr L Ravindran, president of BCIC (Bangalore Chamber of Industry and Commerce) and MD, Wealthmax Group of companies said the budget has focused extensively on fuelling domestic demand and public investment to propel growth by facilitating infra development.

'FARMERS' WELFARE IGNORED'

FARMING

ENS @ Bengaluru

EVEN as some farmer leaders and agri experts from the state have welcomed the allocation of Rs 5,300 for the Upper Bhadra Project (UBP), some have expressed regret over alleged lack of consideration for the welfare of the farming community.

Karnataka Rajya Raitha Sangha leader Kuruburu Shanthakumar said the issue of migration of farmers' children and providing farmers with interest-free loans have not been addressed. "There is no guarantee on the MSP too", he pointed out. Implementation of the UBP should be taken up on priority to help the drought-prone districts of the state, he added.

Former chairman of Agriculture Price Commission in Karnataka Dr TN Prakash Kammardi clarified unless the scientific price based on the recommendations of scientist MS Swaminathan is fixed, the farmers would not benefit from the government's attempts to boost the growth. Another expert on sustainable and agrarian economy KP Suresh took a dig at the budget saying it has failed to respond to the issue of climate change. "Why there is no allocation of funds for sustainable agriculture", he questioned.

Duty exemption on EV batteries hailed, but blanket scrapping of govt vehicles a concern

E-VEHICLES

AKNISREE KARTHIK @ Bengaluru

WHILE the Union Budget has allotted Rs 2,000 crore to states to scrap old vehicles of state governments, experts have said that the replacement should be based on an inspection of pollution emitted and not on the basis of the number of years the vehicle has run. If the vehicle is roadworthy and its pollution is under control, they argue that there is no need to scrap it and said this will only improve the business of private manufacturers.

Ashish Verma, professor, Transportation Systems Engineering, Convenor, Sustainable Transportation (IST) Lab at the Indian Institute of Science (IISc), Bengaluru, said: "Vehicles owned by the government and by the public should not be scrapped just for the simple reason that they have crossed 15 years. It should be scrapped if and only if the vehicle's emission is out of control and the vehicle is certified as not road worthy." Blanket scrapping of 15-year-old vehicles will only help private vehicle manufacturers, he cautioned.

Industry experts have welcomed the push for green mobility in the budget that has exempted customs duty on the import of capital goods and machinery needed for the production of lithium-ion batteries used in the manufacture of electric vehicles (EVs).

"The announcement of Rs 35,000 crore budget for green transition allocation and the proposal of zero carbon emission goal by 2070 are huge steps forward in promoting India's progression towards green growth. However, the industry looks forward to the government sharing more insights about the capital expenditure allocation to support the commercial vehicle sector as part of the green growth agenda" said Chetan Maini, co-founder & chairman, SUN Mobility. The scrappage of old government vehicles and budgetary allocation towards the same is a positive step in the direction of the zero carbon emission goal, he added.

Arun Sreyas, CEO & co-founder, RACEnergy, said that the duty exemption on the production of lithium-ion batteries will fuel the development of the country's EV sector, allowing for the establishment of battery production facilities within India and, in turn, contributing to sustainable mobility.

Experts laud FM's Green Growth push

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

EXPERTS and industry veterans in the state have welcomed the 'Green Growth' initiative announced in the Union Budget 2023-24 by Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Wednesday. Sitharaman also announced the government's aim to shift to sustainable sources of energy. "The decision to set up 10,000 bio-input resource centres and to harness the value of waste by converting it into biogas will help tackle methane emissions", said Swapan Mehra, CEO & Founder, IORA.

Suhas Rajkumar, founder and CEO, Simple Energy, said the Budget is encouraging on various fronts, including green growth. "Such initiatives will ensure rapid electrification in the country and encourage a seamless transition towards the green mobility sector. The equipment manufacturers will also see immense growth with this move", he added. Sitharaman said in her speech, "We are implementing many programmes for green fuel, green energy, green mobility, green farming and equipment and even policies for various economic sectors. These green growth efforts will help in reducing carbon intensity of the economy and provide large-scale green job opportunities."

A sum of Rs 35,000 crore has been allocated for priority capital investment towards energy transition, net zero objectives and energy security. The finance minister also addressed the recently launched National Green Hydrogen Mission during the budget session amounting to Rs 19,700 crore which is another step towards facilitating low carbon intensity in India. The efforts towards increasing investment in the green energy sector are in alignment with the country's aim of reaching 'Panchamrit' - net-zero carbon emissions by 2070, experts said. Panchamrit is the five-point agenda announced by PM Modi at the COP 26 summit in Glasgow last year for achieving net-zero.

SMOKING GETS COSTLIER, BUT TAX HIKE ON CIGARS NEGLIGIBLE

TOBACCO

AKNISREE KARTHIK
@ Bengaluru

WHILE the Union Government has increased the National Calamity Contingent Duty (NCCD) on cigarettes to 16%, experts working on tobacco control said this is a negligible tax increase which will increase the overall taxes on cigarettes by only about 1.8%. They said that the retail price of cigarettes will not be more than 1%.

Economist and public health policy analyst Rijo M John said: "The budget comes as a disappointment as there has been no significant hike in tobacco taxes for the past 5 years. NCCD is a specific tax levied per 1,000 cigarette sticks and is a small part of the total tax on tobacco. The overall tax on cigarettes that include the Good and Service Tax, compensation cess and NCCD accounts for 52%. With this marginal hike in NCCD, it will be around 52.5% now, far behind the World Health Organisation's recommendation of 75%."

Going by the 16% NCCD hike, for example, cigarettes under 65mm in length which used to be taxed at Rs 200/1,000 sticks will now be taxed at Rs 230/1,000 sticks, and under 70mm sticks taxed at Rs 545/1,000 sticks will now be taxed at Rs 630/1,000 sticks. A retail consumer who was buying a cigarette pack for say Rs 200, will have to spend Rs 2 extra per pack, Rijo explained.

He expressed concern that this hike might work in the favour of the tobacco industry as any price hike on cigarettes beyond 1% will go into the pockets of the tobacco industry.

SJ Chander, convenor, Consortium for Tobacco Free Karnataka, said: "Among the tobacco consumers in India, cigarette smokers are just 10-15%. The rest are users of beedis and smokeless tobacco which are much more harmful than cigarettes. The budget has completely remained silent on any tax revisions on beedis or smokeless tobacco. The tax on cigarettes is also too low to act as a deterrent to discourage use among the youngsters."

UNION BUDGET 2023-24 DECODED

ONLINE GAMING INDUSTRY GETS A LIFELINE

INTERNET

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE online gaming industry has welcomed the Union Budget, especially in relation to the rationalisation of direct taxation for online gaming.

In the budget 2023-24, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman announced the removal of the minimum threshold for TDS and clarified taxability relating to online gaming. "For lottery, crossword puzzles games etc., the threshold limit of Rs 10,000 for TDS will continue, but will apply to aggregate winnings during a financial year," Sitharaman added.

On winnings from online gaming, TDS is applicable in accordance with current income tax legislation. Additionally, while filing an income tax return, winnings must be declared under "income from other sources (ITR)".

Sitharaman added that the government will issue more clarity on the taxation regime for online gaming. "Major measures in terms of easing the taxation burden include clarifying taxability related to online gaming," Sitharaman said.

Welcoming the budget announcement, All India Gaming Federation (AIGF) CEO Roland Landers said the online gaming industry "welcomes the budget announcement by the Finance Minister, particularly in relation to the rationalisation of direct taxation for online gaming. We are further happy to note that the Finance Bill has carved out the distinction between betting and gambling activities and online games, through introducing a new section 194BA, which taxes a user's net winnings from online games at the end of the financial year," said Landers.

"As the Indian gaming market is expected to grow at a 27% CAGR reaching USD 8.6 billion by 2027, government support will further help to streamline the industry and provide structured growth to this burgeoning industry," said CEO & Founder, Witzeal Technologies, Ankur Singh.

According to the Lumikai Gaming Report 2021-22, India's online gaming industry stood at USD 2.6 billion in 2022 with over 50.7 crore gamers, of which almost one-fourth were paying users. It is projected to reach USD 8.6 billion in FY27.

'Unity malls' in each dist to showcase art and crafts

TOURISM

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

Mall-like stores will also come up in tourist hotspots like Hampi | PRASUNNA KP

THE central government is working on a new method of promoting tourism and its associated factors through malls. Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Wednesday announced the creation of unity malls, and also put promotion of tourism on mission mode, with the involvement of state governments and public-private partnership.

A senior tourism ministry official told TNIE that the Centre's proposed unity malls will be mall-like stores in each district, showcasing traditional crafts, handicrafts and other GI Tag products. They will be on the lines of 'one district, one destination' promotion, which is already happening at some railway stations. Some will also offer hands-on experiences, like making of cultural and traditional art works.

The official said the unity malls will have much more on offer. In case of urban districts like Bengaluru, where there is nothing much to showcase, the entire state will be displayed.

On adding more destinations to draw more tourists, like in Hampi and Mysuru, the official said the government is working on promoting the west coast. "The carrying capacity in Goa is now over-exploited, so destinations from Karwar to Mangaluru are being promoted. Talks are also on with state tourism department officials to set up heli-tourism at Karwar, along with water sports, leisure and recreation," the official said.

To draw more tourists to Karnataka, domestic and international, the official said that every year, two destinations will be added to the existing list of iconic destinations to be promoted. This year, it is Hampi and Mysuru, next, the department is working on two separate themes -- coast and heritage. The thrust, however, is to ensure that facilities are of international standards for tourists. So while the central government has made the announcement, works on the ground by the state governments and all stakeholders are crucial.

MORE MISSES THAN HITS IN HEALTH SECTOR: EXPERTS

Bengaluru: The healthcare sector has not received significant allocations beyond a boost to research and development (R&D) in the Union Budget 2023, according to experts. Sandhya J, Group Chief Financial Officer, Narayana Health, opined that this year's budget had few hits and misses. While research and development got attention, the initiatives to improve the primary and secondary health infrastructure is missing. Dr Rohan Krishnan, chairman, Federation of All India Medical Association, said there is no need to invest in more medical and nursing colleges. Instead, the money can be spent in enriching and empowering the existing medical institutions across the country. Dr Azad Moopen, founder chairman and MD, Aster DM Healthcare, said they were hoping for an increase in the budgetary allocation which will help in fixing gaps in the sector. The need to have more hospitals and healthcare facilities in rural and suburban areas to meet the rising demand remains untouched. ENS

CENTRE TO FUND POLICE QUARTERS AT STATIONS

Bengaluru: The Union Budget announcement that states will get funds to provide housing for police personnel on police station premises itself has been welcomed by former officers. "It will be satisfactory if at least 60 per cent police personnel is provided housing by the Home Department. This housing will be free of cost and in cities where rents are high, such police quarters will definitely help the lower-rung policemen. The present housing facility is about 50 per cent and the funds by the Union government for housing for police personnel can be used to fill the remaining 10 per cent," said said T Suneel Kumar, retired DGP, who was also Managing Director of Karnataka State Police Housing Corporation Limited. Home Minister Araga Jnanendra also welcomed the Union Minister's announcement. "Work efficiency among police personnel will increase if housing facility for them is provided on the premises of their respective police stations," he said. ENS

Aghanashini all set to be a Ramsar site

CONSERVATION

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

AGHANASHINI estuary in Uttara Kannada district is all set to be declared as a Ramsar site, the most sought after tag for a wetland, with the Union Budget listing out the creation of more sites. The announcement by Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman has been well appreciated by experts and officials from the environment and ecology department. This is more so after the central government stressed upon the protection of coasts and mangroves, and creation of wetlands.

"Aghanashini was a long-pending demand and it was proposed even before Ranganathittu was declared as the first and only Ramsar site of Karnataka. The Centre will announce Aghanashini as a Ramsar site in a day or two. It meets all the required criteria and is required. The decision of the Union government to declare more Ramsar sites is required as it not just leads to conservation, but encourages local employment, sustainable economic growth and tourism," said Prof T V Ramachandra, member of National Wetland Committee and Karnataka Wetland Authority.

The next sites proposed to the Centre are Ankasamudra, Magadi Lake, Shettikere wetland and Almatti backwaters.

According to a central government report, there are 75 Ramsar sites in India, covering 13,26,678 hectares.

2 held for trying to dump waste in forest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Madikeri

TWO persons with 15 sacks of plastic waste were nabbed by the Makutta Wildlife Range officers on Monday evening. The accused allegedly tried dumping the waste, which was allegedly brought from Kerala, at the Makutta Reserve forest area in Kodagu.

The Makutta forest borders Kodagu district and Kerala state is gradually turning into an open dump yard, with waste brought in loaded trucks from Kerala. The reserved forest and wildlife forest area has been filled with plastic, bottles and other litter. A complaint in this regard was forwarded by a few alert residents to the district Chief Conservator of Forests.

The officials of the Forest Department took to action following these complaints. While routine checks were being made at the Makutta forest check-post, the foresters began to check the trucks for loaded garbage. On Monday evening, a truck with 15 sacks of waste was seized near the Makutta check post. The truck driver and cleaner allegedly planned to dump the waste in the reserve forest area of Makutta. They were caught while driving the garbage-filled truck near Kootu Pooley Bridge on Kodagu-Kerala border. The accused have been booked under the Wildlife Protection Act 1972.

Udupi man attempts to recharge FASTag account, loses ₹1 lakh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Udupi

A man from Brahmavara in Udupi lost Rs 99,997 in five transactions while attempting to recharge his FASTag account by calling a helpline number he found on the net.

Realising that he was duped, Francis Pius Furtado approached a Udupi CEN police who registered a cyber fraud case. Furtado was travelling from Brahmavara to Mangaluru in his four-wheeler on January 29 when near the Hejamady toll plaza, he realised that his FASTag balance was running low and tried to recharge. As he was in a hurry, he called the helpline number from the net.

The person on the other end introduced himself as a representative of 'Paytm FASTag' and assured to help him. The operator told Francis that he will receive a one-time password (OTP) and asked him to reveal it to him.

Following his instructions, Rs 49,000 was deducted from Francis' account. Continuing with four more transactions, Francis lost Rs 19,999, Rs 19,998, Rs 9,999 and Rs 1,000. In total, Francis ended up losing Rs 99,997.

The police said the complainant called up a fake number as he searched for a customer care number on the net. Police sources added that Francis was asked to download a suspicious mobile app from which the money was deducted.

Udupi CEN police inspector Manjunath told TNIE that investigation is on to find out to which bank account the money was transferred to. Based on that information, the customer details (KYC details) available with the bank will be sought and the culprits will be traced, he said. A case has been registered at Udupi CEN police station under sections 66(C) and 66(D) of the IT Act.

Schools start registering as evaluation centres

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AS the School Education and Literacy Department prepares to conduct state-level evaluations for Classes 5 and 8 state syllabus students, the Karnataka School Examination and Assessment Board (KSEAB) has initiated the process of setting up centres.

According to a circular issued by the Karnataka School Quality Assessment and Accreditation Council (KSQAAC), government, aided and unaided schools following the state curriculum will act as centres to write the examinations.

KSQAAC stated that based on the number of students for that school for Class 5, at least 25 students must be available in one centre. If the number of students is fewer in a particular school, students from nearby primary schools within a radius of 2 km can be included, provided that the school is equipped with the necessary basic facilities. The same goes for centres for Class 8 examinations. However, the number of students must be at least 50.

Schools have been registering themselves online as centres to conduct the examinations. This is the first time in the state that Classes 5 and 8 assessments are being conducted to assess the learning levels of students.

Surjewala holds talks with Siddu, DKS before key meet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ON the eve of the Congress election committee meeting, AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala, KPCC president D K Shivakumar and leader of opposition Siddaramaiah held a marathon discussion on Wednesday on shortlisting the party's candidates for the upcoming Assembly polls. According to sources, the meeting was held to avoid any embarrassment during the 36-member election committee meeting to be held in a resort in Devanahalli on Thursday.

With both Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar slugging it out to safeguard the interests of their loyalists for the party's nominations, AICC president Mallikajuna Kharge had suggested Surjewala to hold the meeting with the duo to iron out the differences well in advance.

The trio also discussed reports of various surveys conducted by private agencies commissioned by Siddaramaiah, Shivakumar and the AICC, sources told TNIE.

Earlier, Surjewala met former Dy CM Dr G Parameshwara at the latter's residence in the afternoon and held a confidential meeting. As Koratagere is still a complex assembly constituency to tackle, Parameshwara may be asked to look at a safer seat and Surjewala, based on a survey report, might have suggested this to him, according to sources.

Mobile crematorium to do rounds of Mudoor village

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Udupi

The mobile crematorium introduced by MPAC at Mudoor village in Kundapur taluk

IN order to overcome the scarcity of space to cremate dead bodies, a mobile crematorium has been introduced in Mudoor village of Kundapur taluk recently. As the people of this village were forced to take the mortal remains to a crematorium located 40 km away in Kundapur, the Mudoor Primary Agriculture Cooperative Society (MPAC) introduced the mobile crematorium for the villager's convenience.

MPAC will provide the service of the mobile crematorium free of cost. The mortal remains get reduced to ashes within two hours in this LPG mobile crematorium.

There are about 600 houses in Mudoor village, and the unavailability of land to cremate the body of a 50-year-old scheduled caste woman had caught the attention of the local gram panchayat and MPAC last year. President of MPAC Vijay Shastri and CEO Prabhakar Poojary then decided to arrange a mobile crematorium in this village.

A mobile crematorium worth Rs 5.8 lakh was purchased from Star Chair Company in Kerala. The mobile crematorium has a 10 kg LPG cylinder which quickly reduces the body to ashes.

All the rituals can be followed after placing the dead body in the crematorium. It also mitigates foul smell and emission of smoke. The six-feet-long steel mobile crematorium can be taken to any place by mounting it on a truck.

"The crematorium machine is probably being used for the first time in our state. High-pressure LPG with compressed air helps in effective cremation of the body in this crematorium," said Prabhakar Poojary. He added that the mobile crematorium can also be taken to the courtyards of the houses in the village as it mitigates any smell.

FM'S GROWTH POTION PUSHES HIGH CAPEX, BIG CONSUMER SPENDS

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman did not lose the opportunity in her budget speech to point out that, in the midst of crashing economies in the neighbourhood and looming recession in the West, India had stood out as a 'bright star', managing a somewhat robust 7% growth trajectory. Though this would further decelerate to 6.5–7% in the months to come, the government through its budget proposals has made it clear it will bat for continuing a double-whammy growth push: vigorous capital expenditure along with a boost to consumer spending. The government has proposed a massive ₹10 lakh crore outlay on capital expenditure, a hike of 33% over last year. Together with the grants-in-aid to states, the capex figure will rise to ₹13.7 lakh crore. This will fund construction of highways, village roads and city infrastructure, generating growth and jobs. Add to that the highest railway budget ever of ₹2.40 lakh crore and the revival of 50 airports and heliports to aid regional connectivity.

The budget is also generative by giving the middle class more money to spend. The long list of changes to personal income tax includes increasing the tax exemption limit from ₹5 lakh to ₹7 lakh per annum. It also reworks the tax slabs to five instead of the previous six, which may marginally reduce the tax burden for middle income earners. There is relief for the highest earners too, who will be taxed at 39% instead of the current, obscenely high 42.4%. Corporates and investors are also celebrating as the big hit on capital gains tax never came. However, the strained family budgets deserved some relief on cess and taxes on goods and services as well as on the high surcharge on income tax. This would have added to consumer spending too.

It must also be said the budget is futuristic and underlines the need to develop clean energy. The budget proposals include reducing taxes on compressed biogas that is blended with CNG, a better option than other dirty fuels. The FM has also proposed customs duty exemption for machinery to produce lithium-ion batteries which will ultimately make electric vehicles cheaper and more popular. However, the FM's ₹35,000 crore outlay for the country's transition to cleaner energy, is simply not enough. The task of "achieving India's goal of net zero carbon emission by 2070" is gigantic and needs massive funding. What has been allocated will at best aid the research and publicity.

Lack of support for agriculture and rural India is also disappointing. There is mention of enhancing credit to the farm sector. Funds have been allocated for developing digital public infrastructure and for agri-tech startups, but there is little succour for reducing the high levels of poverty and indebtedness. More specifically, there is a 33% reduction in allocation to MNREGA, the universal rural jobs guarantee scheme, and flat allocation for PM KISAN, the ₹6,000-a-year minimum income support scheme. This means the overall budget under these two ministries has declined by 5% compared to the previous year.

EMBELLISHING THE BJP'S POLITICAL CAPITAL

The most significant talking point of the general budget was the marked increase in the income tax rebate limit for the salaried middle class. Coming as it did weeks before elections to three states in the Northeast and a year before the Lok Sabha polls, the underlying message was that of the government putting more money in the pockets of the aam aadmi. Whether or not it would at least compensate for the high inflation that raised the cost of living and the humongous jump in bank loan rates ever since the Ukraine war last year is a different matter. By reducing the income tax slabs and increasing the exemption limit, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman sought to nudge people towards the new tax regime while announcing it will be the default system from now on.

Keeping capital expenditure turbocharged to maintain India's growth story while pushing for inclusive growth was the central theme of the budget. Billed as the first budget for the Amrit Kaal, it lays out the development vision for the 25 years till the centenary of India's Independence. While no freebies were announced, schemes to nurture the BJP's political capital peppered the speech. Since the flagship programme of affordable housing for the poor has good recall value while harvesting votes, a handsome hike in allocation for the scheme was a given. Last year, the Centre had warned of penalties against states that had failed to meet the project's targets. Karnataka was the only state that got mentioned regarding an irrigation project, perhaps because Assembly elections are due in the state in just a few months. Similarly, a scheme to saturate families and habitations of particularly vulnerable tribal groups with basic facilities such as safe housing, clean drinking water and sanitation, improved access to education, health and nutrition, road and telecom connectivity, and sustainable livelihood opportunities had elections in Tripura, Meghalaya and Nagaland written all over it. Schemes to enhance the economic empowerment of women by scaling up self-help groups and a stipend programme to support 47 lakh youth were some of the other ticked checkboxes. A revamped credit guarantee scheme for MSMEs that will enable additional collateral-free guaranteed credit of ₹2 lakh crore and reduce the cost of credit by about 1% was a welcome balm for the struggling sector.

Curiously, the word 'unemployment' was missing in the speech though Sitharaman referred to the 'poor' twice. Also, the finance minister did not seem to find any couplet from a person of note, such as a Tamil savant or poet, fit for the occasion. She instead quoted Prime Minister Narendra Modi, who is at the Centre of the party's universe, more than once to embellish her address.

Nirmala Sitharaman, in this election year's budget, has demonstrated the art of avoiding the temptation of fiscal profligacy by sticking to a prudent fiscal plan

In the wake of the Covid-19 pandemic and the Ukraine-Russia conflict, it's no secret that maintaining fiscal responsibility is a tall order. But, as John Kenneth Galbraith (economist and 7th US Ambassador to India) once noted, fiscal responsibility is like chastity—easier to profess than practice. Furthermore, when the government drafts a budget in the election year, there is always an urge towards fiscal profligacy like loan waivers, announcing freebies, etc. There is always a possibility to throw fiscal prudence to the winds. To everyone's surprise, Nirmala Sitharaman, in this election year's budget, has demonstrated the art of avoiding the temptation of fiscal profligacy by sticking to a prudent fiscal plan. Despite the challenges, the government has set an example for the rest by putting words into action.

This year, we again find ourselves in uncharted territory, grappling with a double whammy of supply and demand disruptions. The resulting inflationary pressure has been felt globally, and in response, central banks have launched a synchronised and unprecedented monetary tightening reminiscent of the 1980s.

The finance minister faced a delicate challenge in navigating this economic landscape. With a keen eye on maintaining macroeconomic stability, the budget strikes a balance between addressing the inflationary pressures and supporting a growth rate impacted by external factors. A tightrope walk, but one that requires steady nerves. We have identified seven areas in which this budget has done exceptionally well.

1) Fiscal Discipline: In recent years, the Centre has demonstrated exceptional fiscal discipline, consistently meeting or exceeding its deficit target. India's fiscal deficit shot up to a record 9.3% in 2020/21, from 4.6% the previous year due to pandemic-related spending. This year, despite formidable fiscal challenges owing to the ongoing Russia-Ukraine conflict and global economic uncertainties, the government deserves accolades for reinforcing its resolve to stick to the fiscal deficit target of 6.4%.

For next year, the Centre has committed to bringing down the fiscal deficit to 5.9%. This reduction is in line with the government's earlier commitment towards the fiscal deficit target of 4.5% of GDP by the end of 2025/26. This doesn't have to be linear. Even if the reduction is by 0.5% next, there may be more opportunities for substantial consolidation and growth as global recession and headwinds would be behind us in the first year of the next government. Thus, there will be more room for fiscal consolidation in the next two years.

2) The economic survey may have shed light on the resurgence of private investment, but with global challenges and monetary constraints, it alone may not be enough to drive growth. This is where the government steps in, with an unwavering commitment to revive the economy—demonstrated by allocating a record-high ₹10 trillion for long-term capital expenditure in 2023–2024, surpassing the previous year's budget of ₹7.5 trillion, thus providing a cushion from global headwinds. A 33% increase year-on-year shows that the government is putting the money where its mouth is and that growth is within reach. The Centre has done its bit and has passed the baton to the private sector to make its mark.

3) Again, increasing the revenue expenditure in an election year is exceptionally rewarding as it is believed that the median voter would appreciate the fiscal profligacy. The recent state elections have shown that the voters have not been deterred by the financial risks associated with the much-debated old pension scheme (OPS). Despite being deemed a fiscal disaster, the political parties that campaigned for its revival have come out on top. OPS is just one example. The FM's focus has been mainly on propelling growth through capital expenditure.

4) At the same time, the Centre is also incentivising states to increase their capital expenditure. The FM has decided to continue a 50-year interest-free loan to the state governments for one year. The states have been given autonomy to spend this at their discretion, with a catch—a portion of it is contingent upon increasing their actual capital expenditure. But what will they spend it on? The Centre has tied parts of the outlay to either reforms or allocation to priority areas. This includes urban planning reforms, financing reforms in ULBs to make them creditworthy, state share of capital expenditure of central schemes, etc. Thus, there will also be an inherent incentive for the state governments to ensure the quality of public expenditure.

5) One may argue that the personal income tax concessions go against the government's stance on fiscal prudence. The Centre sees it as a way to incentivise people to switch from the outdated, exemption-riddled old tax regime to the streamlined new tax regime. The old regime is the source of countless tax disputes, clogging up tribunals and courts with questions about exemptions. The move to the new regime is a critical step towards simplifying the tax system.

6) In the past two budgets, the Centre took bold steps to bring off-budget borrowings, like those of the Food Corporation of India previously, in its light. By doing so, they aim to offer a clear picture of the government's financial obligations, enabling informed decisions and assessments. Previous FMs acknowledged the issue with off-budget borrowings and made hollow announcements which were never fructified. P Chidambaram, in his budget speech (2008–09), stated—"I acknowledge that significant liabilities of the government on account of oil, food and fertiliser bonds are currently below the line. This accounting arrangement is consistent with past practice. Nevertheless, our fiscal and revenue deficits are understated to that extent. There is a need to bring these liabilities into our fiscal accounting." However, it was Nirmala Sitharaman who made it a reality. She has continued with this tradition this year.

7) Lastly, the budget's thrust has been on inclusive development. From women empowerment to increasing the outlay on the PM Awas Yojana by 66% to over ₹79,000 crore, the government is leaving no stone unturned to adhere to its policy of "Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikaas and Sabka Prayaas".

Once again, the finance minister has stuck to the template of underpromising and overdelivering. There is a continuity in the government's economic strategy. It has definitely proved Galbraith wrong. Fiscal prudence can be practiced even during the election year.

THE FORCED CAPEX GAMBLE IN BUDGET 2023

PRAVEEN CHAKRAVARTY

Political economist & Chairman of Data Analytics of Congress

A Union budget should typically be an accounting exercise of government revenues and expenditures for the past year and projections for the coming year. Over the years, it has evolved into a confused mix of political promises, economic strategy and accounting technicalities in a media spectacle. It is best not to get into the hoopla and analyse the budget for what it is—revenues and expenditures. Where a government gets its revenues from and what it spends on can reveal a lot about the politics of the ruling party. In a well-functioning, frictionless democracy. For the purposes of this column, let us pretend India is still one.

Taxes constitute the bulk of the government's revenues. Taxes come largely from three sources: corporates through corporate tax, salaried class through income tax, and common people—rich and poor equally—through indirect taxes such as GST, excise duties, etc. In 2010, for every hundred rupees that the Union and state governments combined collected, ₹40 came from corporates, ₹21 from the salaried class and ₹26 from the common people. Today, corporates contribute only ₹25 while the common person contributes ₹47.

The tax burden has been overturned entirely in the Modi regime, reflecting the fundamental shift in economic philosophy vis-à-vis the UPA regime. To be clear, this was a legitimate economic strategy that was articulated in a 'minimum government' campaign promise in 2014 that overtly believed in incentivising the private sector for trickle-down economic benefits. Only, there have neither been any benefits that have trickled down nor has the government been 'minimum'.

The belief that lower corporate taxes will spur private investment has been belied. Corporates have used the tax cuts to benefit their firms' balance sheets and refrained from new investments. Manufacturing Gross Value Added (GVA) grew at a lethargic 4% even before the pandemic, despite all the 'Make in India' drama. Repeated pleas, threats and overtures from the prime minister and finance minister have failed to woo corporates to invest. The onus thus shifted to the government to invest and spur the economy. The compulsion for the government to step in was turned into a virtue in the 2023–24 budget.

The FM announced a 40% increase in government investment through capital expenditure (capex) in the next financial year. The government wants to spend ₹10 lakh crore in just one year on infrastructure and other projects such as roads, railways, ports, telecom, etc. To be sure, capex investments in infrastructure are higher quality expenditures in the long run as they create public goods and are hence welcome. But to place this in context, the government wants to spend more than three times the amount it spent on capex in 2018. The intent to spend is vastly different from the ability to spend since large infrastructure projects have long gestation periods and take time to build. There is justifiable scepticism about the government's ability to spend such a large sum next year.

> The more important question is, where is the money for such large government expenditure coming from? The government cannot increase tax collections dramatically as its tax structure is already skewed

The more important question is, where is the money for such large government expenditure coming from? The government cannot increase tax collections dramatically since its tax structure is already skewed, with a heavy burden on the common people to the benefit of corporates who have not reciprocated. So, the FM chose to cut expenditure on MGNREGA by a whopping 33% to be able to partly fund its higher capex. Recall that MGNREGA is a demand-based program for poor people to seek work at minimum wages when left with no other option. The Economic Survey tells us that demand for NREGA work continues to be very high despite tags such as the 'world's fastest growing economy'. Essentially, the government has been caught in a quandary and forced to slash welfare expenditure to fund government investment since the private sector has delivered a double whammy of taking lower taxes and not investing. In essence, the government's revenues and expenditure plan have gone awry, and it has been forced to take this big bet in the 2023–24 budget.

But not everything in the budget adds up. If we grant that the government can spend more on capex effectively, it should reflect in spurring growth and consumption. Strangely, the government does not seem very confident of such robust growth, projecting only a 10.5% increase in nominal GDP vis-à-vis 15.4% growth this year. If such large increases in capex do not result in commensurate increases in nominal GDP, then the government's tax revenues will also not rise in step with increased capex. In which case, either the government will run a larger deficit or reduce other expenditure (which is unlikely) or find alternate sources of revenues (where?). But the government has committed to also reducing the fiscal deficit from the current year. There is something amiss.

There were other announcements of revisions in income tax exemption limits for the salaried class, which turned out to be a damp squib since it seemed more like a ploy to lure people into the new tax regime than a genuine tax cut. Expectedly, the government announced a litany of other schemes and programs to cater to various sections that are more appropriate in a political speech than in a budget presentation in Parliament.

How a government earns its revenues and how it spends them is reflective of its larger economic objective. The government's muddled and whimsical decisions in the earlier years of corporate tax cuts and shifting of tax burden to the common people has forced it to make a big bet on government capex in this year's budget. For the sake of a billion Indians, I sincerely hope this bet pays off.

Elections on govt's mind

Undoubtedly, the Union Budget 2023 has given the long-awaited tax concessions to the salaried class, who were disappointed with the previous budgets. The budget is election-oriented as expected.

New name, same policy

President Murmu's speech in the budget session of Parliament was like PM Modi's speech. New names have been given to existing programs. Few years ago, the government did away with the railway budget; probably it is time to do away with the presentation of the yearly budget and simply announce changes, if any.

MY TAKE

INDIA PUTS ITS BEST FOOT FORWARD AS RISKS LOOM

THE expectation was for a populist Budget, given that it is the last full-year budget before the elections in 2024. Quite the contrary was what the FM presented. It's no secret that most of the developed nations are grappling with recessionary pressures, and it is a risk that every economist is ruminating over.

HARSH GOENKA
Chairman, RPG Enterprises

FM Sitharaman has kept her calm amidst the storm and shown intelligent focus in doing her job well.

I feel that with this Budget, India has put its best step forward towards mitigating and, maybe, even avoiding some of the looming risks, with multiple facets announced in the Budget that act as counter-forces.

The highlight of the Budget is the infrastructure-led growth plan. The FM has been wise to build upon last year's Budget and the good work achieved on the ground. The 10 lakh-crore outlay will help with a multiplier effect on consumption and job creation. The number is staggering – thrice what was announced for FY20 just three years back! It will now be critical to follow through, as implementation will remain the key to making the desired impact a reality.

The ₹2.4 lakh crore spend on railways will help improve connectivity and, more importantly, freight – another multiplier that will help bolster trade and commerce across the country. The direction is clear – end-to-end connectivity through airports, helipads, landing grounds and urban infra for the next-tier cities. We are on a clear path to percolate business laterally and widen the growth base beyond existing powerhouse cities.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

FM Sitharaman has put money in the pockets of deserving people. A welcome relief on personal taxation will lead to consumption-led demand, a key lever to help India overcome recessionary forces. This has been backed by incentivising domestic manufacturing of home electronics and mobile phones. Electronics import has long been a burden on India's reserves, and steps to keep the money within our borders are a smart move that will have a long-term systemic benefit.

It's a rare privilege to dream of global leadership, more so in a tech-heavy sector. Setting an aspirational but achievable target of 5 million tonnes of green hydrogen with ₹19,700 crore capital support is encouraging. Not only will this help reduce emissions, but it will cut dependence and import burden from fossil fuels.

It is a tough time for the world. The conflict in Ukraine with the pressure on energy costs has tested the resolve of the developed western nations towards their net zero and green focus goals. It is a true show of character to not compromise on doing the right thing – focus on the circular economy, incentives to states to promote alternate fertilisers, green credits, revitalising mangroves and wetlands and allotting ₹35,000 crore towards a transition to clean energy.

Another key element that the FM has refused to compromise is inclusive growth. First, with enablers such as cutting-edge agritech practices and open-source digital infrastructure, India can strengthen its transition towards becoming the food basket to the world. Secondly, MSMEs have been recognised as the real job creators, and steps like extending the credit guarantee scheme with an additional ₹9,000 crore, refund of forfeited amounts and using tax levers to speed up payments will help strengthen this critical backbone of the Indian economy. Third, start-ups have continued to be prioritised. Apart from tax incentives, much emphasis is on digitisation, digital payments and setting up funds to aid start-ups that are helping India become the poster child of the start-up eco-system. Lastly, co-operatives have been incentivised through tax breaks, and I feel that this will be one of the critical steps in bringing money into the hands of the common man.

The Budget is full of smart moves if one looks closely. Latent engines like tourism are being refocused on to kick-start revenue generation and again with a focus on creating wealth in the hands of local communities. Key issues have been focused on, such as tourist security, which shows the diligence and thoroughness of the steps announced.

Another smart move is the bet on lab diamonds. Once again, the attention to detail is clear from enabling measures such as reducing customs duty on lab diamond seeds and grants for research to IIT. Also, while there was a lot of noise around capital gains taxation, it is clever to keep things unchanged and capital markets attractive to foreign and domestic investors.

In all the flare around big bang measures, the unsung hero is that the fiscal deficit target for FY23 has been maintained at 6.4% as per the long-term plan, despite the global turbulence on crude prices, currency volatility and geo-political sensitivity. Keeping the ship steady towards 5.9% in FY24 and 4.5% in FY26 in the backdrop of a country and world just coming out of the Covid-led disruptions is truly commendable. This is a big positive that alleviates a major concern.

It is still sinking in. The more it gives me a feeling that India has truly arrived. We are today looking beyond 'roti, kapda aur makan' and aspiring to become global leaders in digital technology. The West that always thought of us as a nation of snake charmers today looks to India as a digital partner.

From being marginalised on the global stage, today's world leaders are eager to meet our leaders as critical proponents of global geopolitics. A new chapter in the world story is about to begin, with India as the protagonist. As I sit and think about how long we have come as a country, it gives me exhilaration and confidence.

NEW TAX REGIME ATTRACTIVE: FM

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

The government aims to make the new tax regime – without exemptions – attractive enough between the two options for tax filing, Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said during the post-Budget presentation conference.

"If the tax rates are low, you are going to benefit by the gained funds. If people think that the old regime is more beneficial, then they may continue with it," the Finance Minister said while responding to a media query.

"As much as 61 per cent of corporate taxes are coming from exemption-free tax regimes. We are hopeful that the majority will prefer the new regime," said Sanjay Malhotra, Revenue Secretary when asked about the number of taxpayers opting for an exemption-free tax system. On inflation, Sitharaman said the government and the RBI have been taking steps to keep it under control and the efforts have yielded results.

On job creation, she said whatever projects the government undertakes, the money is utilized on the manpower that completes them. "Even one per cent of projects can't be completed without human intervention, so jobs are happening on the ground," Sitharaman stated.

Govt, RBI keeping eye on inflation

The Finance Minister said the Centre and the RBI have been taking steps to keep inflation under control and the efforts have yielded results... jobs are happening on the ground, the FM said

Expenditure secretary T V Somanathan said the government was confident that it would meet the capital expenditure target of ₹10 lakh crore for FY24. He stated that the shortfall in the utilization of capex is from the states' side and not from the Centre.

"The increased allocation has been made in four areas. The railways has enough projects to use the capital expenditure. Highways have adequate projects running to absorb this capex and third is states (1,30,000 crore). Yes there will be a challenge. But now the states are gearing up and the two years of this experiment helped them to improve their spending capacity and we are seeing an uptick in the second half of this year on the state capital expenditure," said Somanathan.

In addition, the expenditure secretary said the petroleum capital expenditure is for retro-fitting of refineries to meet emission standards and pollution standards and partly for augmenting the strategic reserves. Besides this, Somanathan said the gross taxes in the coming year will grow at 10.5 per cent by which the government estimated the GDP to grow slightly lower than the figure implied by the survey. "The government will achieve the fiscal deficit target of 4.5 per cent by 2025-26," he said.

'AMRIT KAAL'

PM calls Budget historic step for developed India

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

PRIME MINISTER Narendra Modi on Wednesday described the Budget proposals presented in Parliament on Wednesday as "historic," saying the first Budget in 'Amrit Kaal' has established a strong base to fulfill the resolve of a developed India and dreams of the aspirational society, including the poor and the middle class.

"It is aimed at ease of living and empowering the middle class. It is for a sustainable future as it encourages green energy, growth and green infrastructure," the PM said.

Emphasising that the Budget proposals were people-centric, he said, "The Centre has taken steps to make lives of women in rural and urban areas easy. Women's self-help groups will further enhance them. The special savings scheme will further empower women in households," said the PM.

This Budget, the PM said, will make cooperatives a fulcrum of development of the rural economy. The government, he said, has come up with the world's largest food storage scheme in the co-operative sector. "In the budget, we have laid a lot of emphasis on technology. Aspirational India wants modern infrastructure in every field like road, rail, metro, port, and waterways. Compared to 2014, investment in infrastructure has increased by more than 400 per cent," Modi said.

Cong takes potshots at FM, asks 'who has benefitted from Budget'

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Congress on Wednesday attacked the BJP government saying that the Union Budget has betrayed the hopes of a vast majority of people. Questioning the government on the new tax regime, Former Finance Minister and Congress leader P Chidambaram said that no taxes have been reduced except for the small number who have opted for the new tax regime.

"No indirect taxes have been reduced. There is no cut in the cruel and irrational GST rates. There is no reduction in the prices of petrol, diesel, cement, fertilizers, etc. There is no cut in the numerous surcharges and cesses which are, anyway, not shared with the state governments," he said.

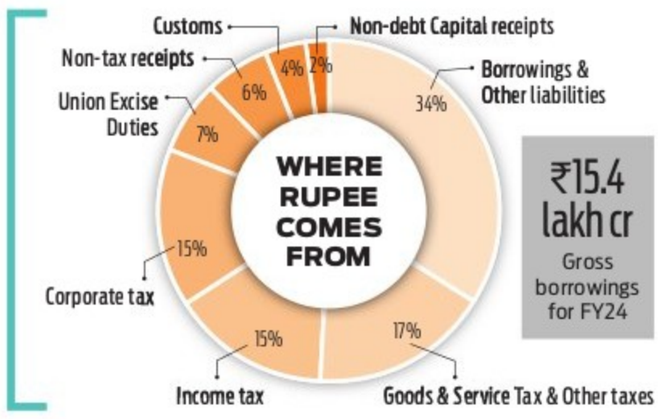
The Congress leader said that the poor have not benefited from the Budget. "Who has benefited from this Budget? Certainly, not the poor. Not the youth looking desperately for jobs. Not those who have been laid off. Not the bulk of the taxpayers. Not the homemaker. Not the thinking Indian who is shocked by growing inequality, the rise of the number of billionaires, and the wealth being accumulated in the hands of the 1 per cent of the population. Certainly, not you," he said.

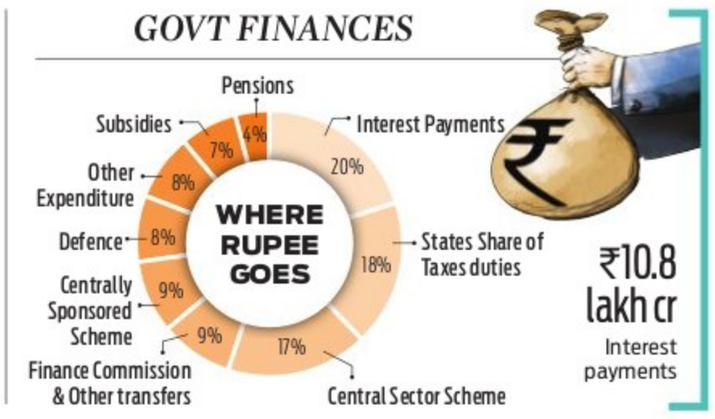
He questioned the government on GDP figures. "Last year, the Centre estimated the GDP for 2021-22 at ₹2,32,14,703 and, assuming a nominal growth rate of 11.1 per cent, projected the GDP for 2022-23 at ₹2,58,00,000 crore. The GDP for 2021-22 has since been revised upward to ₹2,36,64,637 crore. In today's Budget, the GDP for 2022-23 has been estimated at ₹2,73,07,751 crore which yields a growth rate of 15.4 per cent, much above earlier estimate."

"Given this impressive number, real GDP ought to have grown in double-digits. Yet the FM (and the Economic Survey) put the GDP growth at only 7 percent this year Will the government explain?" he asked.

Meanwhile, former Congress President Rahul Gandhi took potshots at the government saying that the budget shows that the government has no roadmap to build India's future.

"Mitr Kaal' budget has no vision to create jobs, no plan to tackle mehngai, no intent to stem inequality 1 per cent richest own 40 per cent of wealth, 50 per cent of poorest pay 64 per cent of GST, 42 per cent of youth unemployed – yet, the PM doesn't care! This Budget proves the government has no roadmap to build India's future," Rahul Gandhi said.





Fiscal federalism under strain, says Oppn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

THE Opposition dismissed the Budget proposals as "anti-people" and mere rhetoric lacking the vision for creating jobs and taming inflation. Alleging that the Union government is adopting a step-motherly attitude towards Telangana, Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) Rajya Sabha MP K Keshav Rao said there was nothing substantial in the Budget presented by Finance Minister Nirmala Sitaraman on Wednesday.

"Telangana is ahead of all states in the irrigation sector. But not a single rupee has been given to this sector which has the potential to provide employment to 10 lakh people. Telangana was completely forgotten in this Budget," said Rao..

Rao further said that the government has drastically cut NREGA funds from ₹89,000cr last year to ₹60,000 crore now. "They talked about women's empowerment but it is missing in the Budget," he said.

Calling the budget anti-farmer and anti–rural, BRS MP Nageshwar Rao sought to know why only Karnataka was allocated ₹5,300 crore. "Does drought occur only in Karnataka? We thought that mission Bhagirathi will get support in the Budget. There is not a single scheme to boost rural development," he said.

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee also criticised the Budget saying, "It is not futuristic, totally opportunistic, anti-people and anti-poor. It has been prepared with an eye on 2024 Lok Sabha polls."

The CPM said the Budget proposals were "contractionary" and "anti-people".

CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury said the relations between the Centre and states are going to get further strained and that fiscal federalism was now under "severe attack".

"States cannot raise resources after GST. They are not allowed to borrow under the new conditions. So, states will have to come to the Centre with a begging bowl. "Then you have what has been announced for Karnataka now, a huge allocation for them. It is very clear where there is BJP, state governments get benefits and non-BJP government states get squeezed out. Thus, this will lead to a great strain in our polity," Yechury said.

Regional parties such as the DMK and the Shiv Sena faction headed by Uddhav Thackeray termed the Budget disappointing and accused the Centre of taking away states' resources.

Rajya Sabha member Priyanka Chaturvedi, who represents the Uddhav Thackeray-led faction of Shiv Sena, accused the Modi government of not making adequate allocations in the budget towards education and health infrastructure in states.

Samajwadi Party chief and former UP CM Akhilesh Yadav said the Budget has brought people "nirasha" (despair) instead of "asha" (hope), and will only benefit the rich. Bahujan Samaj Party supremo Mayawati said it would be better if the Budget is for the country rather than for the party.

BOOST FOR JOBS AS CAPEX RISES 33%

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

PRESENTING the last full Budget before the general elections of 2024, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman raised the capital expenditure (capex) by a big 33% to ₹10 lakh crore for the financial year 2023-24. The rise in capex is significantly aimed towards creating additional jobs as the PM Narendra Modi-led government often faces criticism over growing unemployment.

"Capital investment outlay is being increased steeply for the third year in a row by 33% to ₹10 lakh crore, which would be 3.3% of GDP. This will be almost three times the outlay in 2019-20. This substantial increase in recent years is central to the government's efforts to enhance growth potential and job creation, crowd-in private investments, and provide a cushion against global headwinds," Sitharaman said in her budget speech.

She added that effective capex will be ₹13.7 lakh crore, forming 4.5% of GDP. The FM announced allocating ₹2.4 lakh crore towards Indian Railways. These funds will primarily be spent on building tracks, new coaches and developing facilities at stations.

The Centre has allocated ₹2.7 lakh crore towards the roads ministry. This is a 10% jump over the budgetary allocation of ₹1.99 lakh crore made in the FY2022-23 budget. The government had set a target of 13,000 km of highway construction in FY2022-23, but is likely to miss the target by a decent margin. The government has also decided to continue the 50-year interest free loan to state governments for one more year, with a significantly enhanced outlay of ₹1.3 lakh crore.

In addition, Sitharaman said that 100 critical transport infrastructure projects for last and first mile connectivity to ports, coal, steel, and fertiliser and food grain sectors have been identified. "They will be taken up on priority at an investment of ₹75,000 crore. This includes ₹15,000 crore from private sources," she said.

Jaijit Bhattacharya, President, Centre for Digital Economy Policy Research, said that unprecedented budget allocation of ₹10 lakh crore for capex will go a long way in supporting demand in the economy, especially for the construction industry where we were witnessing softening of demand. Rating agency Crisil said that the increased allocation this will fast-track implementation of high-multiplier government programmes such Bharatmala, Ghatishakthi, Parvatmala and Sagarmala.

'Crucial for $5trillion economy'

The 33% increase in capital investment outlay using gross budgetary support, which has a strong growth this fiscal, and grants of ₹3.7 lakh crore is crucial for infrastructure buildout needed to push India towards its $5 trillion economy goal, said CRISIL.

Capital expenditure in 5 years

Since taking over in 2014, the BJP-led NDA government has ramped up capital spending on roads and energy, while placating investors through lower tax rates and labour reforms, and offering subsidies to poor households. In 2023, the government says it will raise its capital expenditure by 33% to ₹10 trillion ($122.29 billion) in the next fiscal year. At $122bn, it marks a three-time increase over capital expenditure in 2019.

INDIA ON CUSP OF GLOBAL HEALTHCARE REVOLUTION

SANGITA REDDY
Jt Managing Director, Apollo Hospitals Group

TODAY, we are fortunate to be living in the era of "Amrit Kaal" and witness the unique growth and innovation that is enabling India to emerge as the global 'Healthcare Superpower' with its triple advantage of cost, quality and scale in providing essential drugs, medical expertise, treatment infrastructure and capacity building to other nations globally.

Having established the position of a "global hub for the manufacture of medical devices" and "Pharmacy to the world", India is increasingly becoming one of the world's most preferred destinations for any and every Healthcare related Services offerings.

Today globally, the health paradigm has shifted from health to wellness to well-being. Health is not limited to what happens in a hospital or between a patient and a pharmacy; health is much more than that.

India's quick adoption of new-age technologies like AI, ML and robotics by both the private and Government's public policy think tanks has helped improve accuracy and early diagnosis, in addition to extending the reach of our limited medical personnel into far-flung corners of the country, creating enormous potential for remote treatment.

According to recent data from the World Economic Forum, AI expenditure in India increased by over 109% and is expected to reach $11.78 billion by 2025, adding $1 trillion to India's economy by 2035'. The Budget 2023 announcement of setting up three centres of excellence for Artificial Intelligence is a positive step in this direction.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

The NITI Aayog study for early detection of diabetes complications using AI and the Apollo hospitals' collaboration with Microsoft's AI Network for Healthcare in developing an ML model to better predict heart attack risks are case studies for many nations to replicate.

As we march ahead and aspire to be a global pharma leader by 2047, differentiation based on innovation will be the key to achieving this objective. Today India holds the highest number of US-FDA-compliant pharma plants outside the USA, and by 2025 the Indian pharmaceutical sector is positioned to grow to US$ 100 billion.

India is also at a key inflexion point of not just 'Heal in India' through its vibrant medical value tourism policies and initiatives, but also 'Heal by India', where our medical professionals can be used to serve not just our country but at the global level. The Budget 2023 announcement of setting up 157 new nursing colleges is a significant step in creating a global workforce of healthcare workers.

For India to emerge as a global leader in healthcare services, there are three strands which I believe need focus - regulatory framework, research framework, along with resources, financial and talent. With health spending expected to go up 13%, the collaboration between large companies and start-ups, industry and academia across sectors, including the drug and devices sector, along with the digital sector, will be the main pillar of growth in the years to come.

In the year of the G20 presidency, India is steering an ambitious people-centric agenda to address global challenges and facilitate sustainable economic development.

The Union Budget 2023 presents us the unique opportunity to strengthen India's role in the world economic order and accelerate our vision will become a five trillion-dollar economy by 2025 and the 3rd largest economy in the world by 2027.

I want to add that the Union Budget for 2023 is a balanced blend of both short-term and long-term growth objectives. With the focus on research, Investment and public-private partnership, no stone is being left unturned towards transforming India into a Global Bright Star.

Highest outlay will enable more tourist circuits, corridors

RAILWAYS

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

UNION Railway Minister Ashwini Vaishnaw on Wednesday said projects and works would get a major boost with the highest-ever capital outlay of ₹ 2.41 lakh crore provided to his ministry for the financial year of 2023-24.

The minister said the railways would work on creating many economic corridors with the grants allotted from the capital outlay. "With ample capital outlay, the Indian Railways will develop many corridors such as energy, green, hill, and cement corridors for quicker services to the passengers.

"The railways will also get support for creating 5 new tourist circuits in the country," the minister said, adding the production of Vande Bharat trains will get ramped up in 2023 from four manufacturing units, including the Integral Coach Factory (ICF) in Chennai.

"The railways has invested heavily in upgrading and expanding its network. The railway outlay was only ₹53,989 crore in 2014. It has now gone up to ₹1,90,267 crore in FY 2022," the minister said. Outlining the priority of capital outlay, the minister said the net revenue expenditure of the railways is placed at Rs 2,65,000 crore in the Budget Estimate (BE) 2023-24 as against ₹2,42,892.77 crore in Revised Estimate (RE) 2022-23.

"Hydrogen train is another example of self-reliant India, which is included in the theme of green growth in the Budget. We'll be ready with a hydrogen train by December 2023," he said. "The increased outlay will give enough momentum to projects for redeveloping 1,027 railway stations," said the minister.

4G & 5G on cards as BSNL gets ₹52k cr

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE state-owned Bharat Sanchar Nigam Limited (BSNL) has received ₹52,937 crore capital infusion from the government in 2023-24.

"The capital will be used to install new towers, upgradation of towers to 4G and 5G and revamp of landline systems. The allocation is part of the revival package for BSNL that was announced in July last year for ₹1.64 lakh crore. Good steps have been taken. BSNL has also raised new debts," said telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw.

The telco will soon launch its 4G mobile services and the testing for locally developed 4G solutions on a live network will start this month, much behind private telecom operators Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel which have already started 5G services.

The loss-making company has been planning to launch 4G since 2019 but in 2020, it was forced to cancel a tender due to restrictive conditions for domestic firms.

The government has allocated ₹2,158 crore for optical fibre cable based network for defense services and ₹715.8 crore for telecom projects in the North Eastern states. The Department of Posts has been allocated ₹25,814 crore and includes ₹250 crore capital infusion in the India Post Payments Bank.

Oil marketing companies get ₹30k cr push

OIL

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

OIL marketing companies (OMCs) received ₹30,000 crore capital infusion from the government in the Budget 2023-24 for the energy transition.

As per the Budget document on capital allocation to the petroleum ministry, the government earmarked ₹30,000 crore as capital support to oil companies, ₹5,000 crore is meant for strategic storage filling of oil reserves, and Rs 180 crore for direct benefit transfer for LPG consumers. "Of the ₹35,000 crore capital expenditure announced, ₹5,000 crore is for strategic storage filling of oil reserves and ₹30,000 crore capital support would be for OMCs to take up projects that contribute towards the goals of the energy transition, security, and net-zero carbon emissions target by 2070," said Finance Minister Niramala Sitharaman.

Meanwhile, the three state-owned oil companies -- Indian Oil Corporation, Bharat Petroleum Corporation Ltd and Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Ltd – have reported a combined net loss of ₹21,201 crore during April-September 2022. The loss would have been higher if the government had not paid ₹22,000 crore LPG subsidy to the companies. OMCs witnessed losses due to under-recoveries in petrol, diesel and LPG on account of a record-high crude oil prices, largely due to geopolitical tensions and the freezing of retail prices of auto fuels.

However, this quarter these companies are expected to post profits.

Mission housing for all: PMAY outlay up 66% to tide over pandemic blues

HOUSING

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

IN a big boost for the affordable housing segment, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in her Budget speech announced increasing the allocation made towards the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) by 66% to ₹79,000 for the financial year 2023-24. The allocation stood at ₹48,000 crore in the previous Budget. The big rise in allocation comes as the Centre is striving to achieve the 'Housing for All' target by 2024 against its previous missed target of 2022.

It also comes at a time when demand for affordable housing has taken a big hit due to inflationary pressure.

"The enhanced allocation for PM Awaas Yojana by 66% to over ₹79,000 crores is certainly a boost for affordable housing, which was flagging due to increased input costs and also because the buyers in this segment, mostly from the unorganized sector, were still reeling under the impact of the pandemic," said Anuj Puri, Chairman, Anarock Group.

However, from a real estate point of view, there were no major direct announcements that could be seen as immediate booster shots, said Puri.

As per Anarock data, 2022 saw a trend reversal with the share of new supply in the affordable housing category dipping to 20% of total 3.58 lakh units launched in top 7 cities from 40% of 2.37 lakh units launched in 2019. PM Narendra Modi launched the PMAY mission in June 2015 with an objective to provide housing for all by 2022.

Sitharaman also proposed to set up an Urban Infrastructure Development Fund (UIDF) through the use of priority sector lending shortfall and with ₹10,000 crore per year allocation to develop urban infrastructure in tier II and III cities. NAREDCO vice chairman Niranjan Hiranandani said that setting up of UIDF by NHB will ensure governance, speed in execution and timely delivery under PPP ties. He, however, said that capital gain tax benefit on the sale of property above the value of Rs 10crore is sought to be withdrawn.

The real estate industry also welcomed the government's decision to spend ₹10 lakh crore on longer-term capital expenditure in 2023-24 and the revamping of the income tax slab.

THE NEW INDIAN EXPRESS

MY TAKE

THE UNION BUDGET: FROM SHADOW TO REALITY

T M THOMAS ISAAC
Former finance minister of Kerala

THE figures presented in the shadow budget prepared for The New Indian Express come close to the basic framework of the actual budget of the Union Finance Minister. The total expenditure to GDP ratio is nearly the same at 15 per cent. The net tax revenue is 7.7 per cent of the GDP, virtually the same as 7.8 per cent in the shadow budget. And so on. It only proves that there is nothing unexpected or new in the budget framework.

The shadow budget also assumes a significant step up in capital expenditure. But the finance minister has bettered the expectations from ₹8.15 lakh crore to ₹10 lakh crore. As a result, instead of being 2.67 per cent of the GDP, Capital Expenditure is 3.33 per cent.

The rationale for raising the public capital expenditure is that it would crowd in private investment. But the puzzle is that private investment is not forthcoming despite higher government capital investment. The Gross Fixed Capital Formation (GFCF) to GDP in all years has been lower than the ratio of 32.6 in 2013-14 at around 31.3 until Covid, when it fell even more sharply.

The key question is why is not the private sector investment crowding in. The Union Finance Minister, at one stage, had expressed her exasperation at the lack of interest of the private investors. Even the present budget does not provide an answer.

Among many, one important reason would be a lack of fairness and transparency. A public policy geared toward creating a few champion investors leads to the minimum government being the maximum government when it comes to certain favoured corporates. The crisis in the Adani empire has cast a long shadow over the budget.

If the future is Amrit Kaal, the past under NDA had been Kali Kaal. Indian economy, which was growing at around 8.6 per cent per annum since 2003-04, decelerated under NDA to 3.1 per cent on the eve of Covid. Though even the economic survey has very carefully avoided it from the list of shocks that adversely affected the Indian economy, it was the demonetisation that triggered the downward slip.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

India's economic deceleration resulted from multiple policy failures of conservative fiscal and monetary policies. The present budget does not seem to have any new strategy to make up for the mistakes. The assumption of "a full recovery in FY22" is silly. The per capita GDP would still be below the pandemic level.

The budget holds little relief for the rural poor whose employment and wages are fallen. The outlay on MGNREGS has fallen from nearly ₹90,000 crore in 2022-23 to ₹60,000 crore. The national social assistance program has been barely maintained at ₹9,650 crore, at the same level as 2022-23. The outlay on National Education Mission and Health Mission is lower from the BE of 2022-23 of ₹76,700 crore by ₹1,000 crore. The housing programme (₹90,000 crore) was expended in 2021- 22. In 2022-23 the expenditure was ₹70,000 crore, and in the current year, the allocation is ₹79,590 crore.

In short, the Union Budget 2023-24 does not open any new vista to usher in any Amrit Kaal. It does not even provide higher support for the poor and downtrodden — not a very unexpected outcome from a budget, considering the recovery from the pandemic is full.

The Budget features several measures aiming at woman empowerment, including Mahila Samman Savings Certificate scheme

EMPOWERMENT

SMALL SAVINGS, BIG IMPACT ON WOMEN'S FINANCES

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

IN its last full budget of the second term, the Narendra Modi government on Wednesday announced measures aiming at women empowerment, with Mahila Samman Savings Certificate, a one-time small savings scheme, being one of the significant announcements.

While presenting the budget, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman said that for commemorating Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, the Mahila Samman Savings Certificate would be made available for a two-year period up to March 2025. Under the scheme, one can make deposit up to ₹2 lakh in the name of women or girls for a tenure of two years at fixed interest rate of 7.5% with partial withdrawal option.

She also said that for the economic empowerment of women under the Deendayal Antyodaya Yojana National Rural Livelihood Mission, 81 lakh self-help groups have been created by mobilising rural women.

"We will enable these groups to reach the next stage of economic empowerment through the formation of large producer enterprises or collectives, with each having several thousand members. They will be helped with supply of raw materials and for better design, quality, branding and marketing of their products. Through supporting policies, they will be enabled to scale up their operations to serve the large consumer markets, as has been the case with several start-ups growing into 'Unicorns'," said the minister.

Financial assistance of more than ₹2.25 lakh crore has been provided to small farmers under PM-Kisan Samman Nidhi. About 3 crore women farmers have been provided ₹54,000 crore under the scheme, Sitharaman added.

The budget allocated to the Women and Child Development Ministry, the nodal department of the government for the welfare of women and children, stood at ₹25,448.75 crore in 2023-24, marking an increase of ₹267 crore from ₹25,172.28 crore allocated in 2022-23.

WCD ministry gets ₹25,448 crore

The budget allocated to the Women and Child Development Ministry stood at ₹25,448.75 crore in 2023-24, marking an increase of ₹267 crore from ₹25,172.28 crore allocated in 2022-23. The largest allocation has been for Anganwadi Services, Poshan Abhiyan, and Scheme for Adolescent Girls

For the ministry, the largest allocation has been for the Saksham Anganwadi and POSHAN 2.0 (Umbrella ICDS – Anganwadi Services, Poshan Abhiyan, Scheme for Adolescent Girls) of ₹20,554.31 crore. Mission VATSALYA (Child Protection Services and Child Welfare Services) has been allotted ₹1,472 crore and allocation for Mission Shakti (Mission for Protection and Empowerment for Women) is ₹3,143 crore in 2023-24, a dip from ₹3,184 crore in 2022-23.

The budget allocation for autonomous bodies is ₹168 crore, a marginal increase from ₹162 crore in the earlier budget. These autonomous bodies include Central Adoption Resource Agency (CARA), National Commission for Protection of Child Rights (NCPCR) and National Commission for Women.

The minister further said that PM Vishwakarma Kaushal Samman (PM VIKAS) scheme for the artisans and craftspersons of the country would greatly benefit the women, besides Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, Other Backward Classes, and other people belonging to the weaker sections.

For the first time, a package of assistance for artisans and craftsmen has been conceptualised. The new scheme will enable them to improve the quality, scale and reach of their products, integrating them with the MSME value chain. "The components of the scheme will include not only financial support but also access to advanced skill training, knowledge of modern digital techniques and efficient green technologies, brand promotion, linkage with local and global markets, digital payments, and social security," said Sitharaman.

- Joint public and private medical research to be encouraged via select ICMR labs for encouraging collaborative research and innovation

Health gets mere 3% hike, focus on research

HEALTHCARE

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

THE health budget saw a meagre hike of 3.46%, with a total allotment of ₹89,155 crore in the Union Budget 2023-24, as against last year's ₹86,200 crore (budget estimate).

Though Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman stressed on research and innovation, the Department of Health Research, under the Health and Family Welfare Ministry, saw a 9% dip in budget allocation, getting ₹2,980 crore, down from last year's ₹3,200 crore.

Announcing a new initiative in pharmaceuticals, Sitharaman said, "A new programme to promote research and innovation in pharmaceuticals will be taken up through centres of excellence. We shall also encourage industry to invest in research and development in specific priority areas". Select Indian Council of Medical Research labs would have facilities for research by faculty of medical colleges and private sector R&D teams to encourage "collaborative research."

Sitharaman also announced setting up of 157 new nursing colleges and a project to eliminate sickle cell anaemia, a blood disorder commonly seen among the tribals, by 2047.

This time, no funds were set aside for Covid-19 vaccination.

According to former director of Public Health Foundation of India, Dr K S Reddy, "The budget signals a shift from Covid-driven commitment to health to infrastructure-led economic development. Given the expanded mandate of comprehensive primary healthcare in both rural and urban areas, the National Health Mission should have had a higher allocation."

As per Dr Sarit Kumar Rout, Additional Professor, Indian Institute of Public Health Bhubaneswar, "Health and health research allocations have gone up by less than 4%, which is not even inflation adjusted."

Two government schemes got considerable hike this time. The Pradhan Mantri Ayushman Bharat Health Infrastructure Mission, which aims to fill gaps in health infrastructure, was allocated ₹4,200 crore as against ₹4,176 crore last year while the National Digital Health Mission got ₹341 crore against ₹200 crore last year.

Also, the government's flagship health insurance scheme, Pradhan Mantri Jan Aarogya Yojana, under which nearly 50 crore people receive cashless hospitalisation benefits of up to ₹5 lakh, was allocated ₹7,200 crore, higher than the ₹6,412 crore given in 2022-23.

Calling the budget "disappointing", former Union health secretary Sujatha Rao said, "Barring setting up 157 nursing colleges, there is nothing else for health, which is crying for huge capital investment and some financial risk protection for the lower middle classes."

The plan to set up more nursing colleges also didn't cheer the medical fraternity. "I oppose the plan of creating buildings and not opportunities," Dr Rohan Krishnan, chairman, FAIMA Doctors Association, told this newspaper.

The Association of Indian Medical Device Industry coordinator Rajiv Nath said the budget had no announcement for the medical device industry, which is heavily dependent on imports.

22% cut in MGNREGA allocation, may hit jobs

RURAL JOBS

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

THE Union budget brought a piece of bad news for the rural job guarantee scheme. Only ₹60,000 crore has been allocated for the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA), which is 21.66% lower than the budgetary estimate of ₹73,000 crore last year. However, it was revised to ₹89,400 crore later.

Activists say the sharp cut will be a major blow to the rural job sector. "It's a bloodbath for the social sector. Demand for MGNREGA jobs remains high," says Nikhil Dey, a founding member of the workers and farmers solidarity group, Mazdoor Kisan Shakti Sangathan.

In the past five years, 21% of the budget for the scheme is used for paying the pending dues of the previous years. "There is already a pending liability of ₹16,000 crore. The government wants to kill this scheme, which is the lifeline of millions," said Dey.

A day before the budget, two groups — the Peoples' Action for Employment Guarantee (PAEG) and the NREGA Sangarsh Morcha — had demanded a minimum allocation of ₹2.72 lakh crore this financial year.

Dey says though MGNREGA guarantees livelihood in rural areas by providing at least 100 days of employment in a financial year to every household, a study conducted by PRS Legislative Research shows that under NREGA, from 2016-17 to 2020-21, the average number of days of employment was 48 days per household.

Boost to PM Shri Schools, libraries as education kitty gets heavier by 8%

EDUCATION

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @New Delhi

THE education budget saw a hike of 8.27%, with an allocation of ₹1.12 lakh crore against the ₹1.04 lakh crore allocated in the last Union budget.

A whopping ₹4,000 crore was allotted to PM Shri Schools scheme, which was announced in last year's budget speech. The scheme features setting up of over 14,500 PM Shri Schools or PM Schools for Rising India by strengthening existing schools managed by the central government and state and local bodies. More than 20 lakh students are expected to be direct beneficiaries of the scheme.

Lauding the budget, Union Education and Skill Development and Entrepreneurship Minister Dharmendra Pradhan said that the highest-ever allocation of ₹1,12,899.47 crore for the education sector was announced in the Union budget.

While the allocation for higher education went up by 7.9% to ₹44,094 crore in 2023-24, that for school education and literacy also saw a hike of 8%. School education budget allocation increased from ₹63,449 crore in 2022-23 to ₹68,804 crore.

To build a culture of reading and to make up for the learning loss during the pandemic, Finance Minister Niramala Sitharaman said the National Book Trust, Children's Book Trust and other sources would be urged to replenish non-curricular titles in regional languages and English.

"Collaboration with NGOs that work in literacy will also be a part of this initiative. To inculcate financial literacy, financial sector regulators and organizations will be encouraged to provide age-appropriate reading material to these libraries," she said. Sitharaman also announced setting up of a National Digital Library for Children and Adolescents to facilitate availability of quality books across geographies, languages, genres and levels and device-agnostic accessibility. States will be encouraged to set up physical libraries at panchayat and ward levels.

She also announced three Centres of Excellence to be set up in educational institutions to "Make AI in India and Make AI work for India."

The ministry's scheme to help in reversing learning loss due to Covid saw ₹37,453 crore allocated as compared to ₹37,383 crore in 2022-23.

MY TAKE

A GROWTH-ORIENTED AND PROGRESSIVE BUDGET

CHANDRAJIT BANERJEE
Director General, CII

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman has presented a powerful Budget for 2023-24. The Budget came at a time of high uncertainty and at the back of a year driven by global headwinds, including the lingering war in Ukraine, the resurgence of Covid-19, slowing global growth and demand, and tight fiscals. The Budget has successfully recognised and taken measures to address these concerns and has also gone beyond this to lay the roadmap for making India a Viksit Rashtra by 2047.

In line with CII recommendations, the capex thrust of the Government has continued with a sharp rise of 33 per cent in the budgetary allocation to ₹10 lakh crore in FY24 as compared to ₹7.5 lakh crores in FY23. With this, the Capex to GDP ratio is budgeted to rise to 3.3 per cent in FY24 from revised estimates of 2.7 per cent for FY23 and a steady increase from a long-term average of 1.7 per cent of GDP. This is expected to have a multiplier effect on growth next year and will help to crowd-in private investments, which are already seeing incipient signs of recovery. The Budget has reiterated the Centre's push for cooperative federalism by continuing with the ₹1 lakh crore interest-free loans scheme for state capex next year. This aligns with CII's recommendations and shall help build synergies to boost growth.

The infrastructure sector, which builds public assets that have a multiplier effect and create jobs for millions, has rightly been a priority area of this year's Budget. Given the importance of State governments in this process, the 50-year interest-free loans to State governments have been extended for one more year with an enhanced outlay of ₹1.3 lakh crores. Importantly, the Budget has proposed the introduction of an Urban Infrastructure Development Fund to which the Government will be providing ₹10,000 crores per annum.

While enhancing public capital expenditure, the Budget recognises maintaining fiscal prudence as a sin quo non for achieving sustainable growth. The Budget sticks to the fiscal target of 6.4 per cent for FY23 because of higher revenue buoyancy. Further, in line with CII's recommendations, it looks to follow a glide path for fiscal deficit to reach 5.9 per cent in FY24 and to 4.5 per cent by FY26. A budgeted tax-to-GDP ratio of 11.1 per cent through increased tax compliance and broadened tax base, combined with trimmed subsidy spending of 1.3 per cent of GDP in FY24 compared to 2.1 per cent in FY23, will help achieve this path of fiscal stability.

The tax structure in the new personal income tax regime introduced in 2020 with six slabs now changed to five with the increase in tax exemption limit to ₹3 lakh will provide a major relief to all taxpayers. This combined, with the enhanced in the rebate limit of personal income tax to ₹7 lakh from the current ₹5 lakh will boost disposable income and increase consumption. This has been a long-standing demand of CII.

The Budget has continued the momentum of the previous Budgets in pushing India towards becoming a global manufacturing hub. In line with CII recommendations, more than 39,000 compliances have been cut and 3,400 legal provisions have been decriminalised for the Ease of Doing Business. This has been combined with the introduction of PAN as the common identifier, the launch of Entity DigiLocker as well as the higher budgetary allocation for the Phase III of the e-Court Project. The Budget has supported manufacturers through relief in customs duty on key mobile phone components not manufactured in India, like a camera lens, open cells of TV panels used in TV manufacturing, and lithium-ion cells. This relief will deepen domestic value addition and boost the manufacturing sector to cater to domestic and foreign markets.

FOOD GRAINS

₹800 cr allotted for distribution of pulses

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE Union Budget has steeply increased the pulses distribution budget by around 90 per cent. The allocation of ₹800 crore will provide subsidised pulses through the public distribution system (PDS) and other welfare schemes.

Along with free grains (wheat and rice) under the National Food Security Act (NFSA) , people will get subsidised pulses too.

The central sector project, 'Distribution of Pulses to State and Union Territories for Welfare Schemes' is to dispose of the huge stock of pulses procured under Price Support Scheme (PSS).

The project offers a subsidy of Rs 15 per kg over the issue price under various welfare schemes such as Mid-Day Meal, Public Distribution Systems, ICDS, etc.

In 2022-23, the budgetary allocation was a mere ₹9 crore. It was increased to ₹166 crore in its revised budget. In budget for-2004, the finance minister has allocated ₹800 crore for pulses distribution.

"The Central government has procured a lot of pulses under PSS which need to be disposed of, so the government has taken this decision to provide subsidised pulses through a welfare scheme" said Siraj Hussain, former secretary in the Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare.

AGRICULTURE

CUT IN FLAGSHIP FARM SCHEMES

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Wednesday announced a 7 per cent cut in budget allocation for 2023-24 for the Department of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare (DAFW) compared to previous year's budget estimate. However, it is 5 per cent higher than last year's revised budget estimate. The Budget 2023-24 has allocated ₹115,531.79 crore for DAFW. It is lower by ₹8,400 crore of the previous year's budgetary estimate of ₹124,000 crore.

The budget has seen a 11 per cent rise in the Department of Agricultural Research and Education allocation at ₹9,504 crore compared to the previous year.

The flagship agriculture programmes such as agriculture insurance and direct income support to the farmers have seen a dip in the allocation.

Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana (PMFBY), the flagship scheme started in 2016 to protect farmers from weather vagaries, has seen fewer allocation.

Due to climate change, the incidents of weather vagaries have increased, and farmers are at the receiving end as their income plummets. The budget for 2023-24 is ₹13,625 crore, while it was ₹15,500 crore in the previous year.

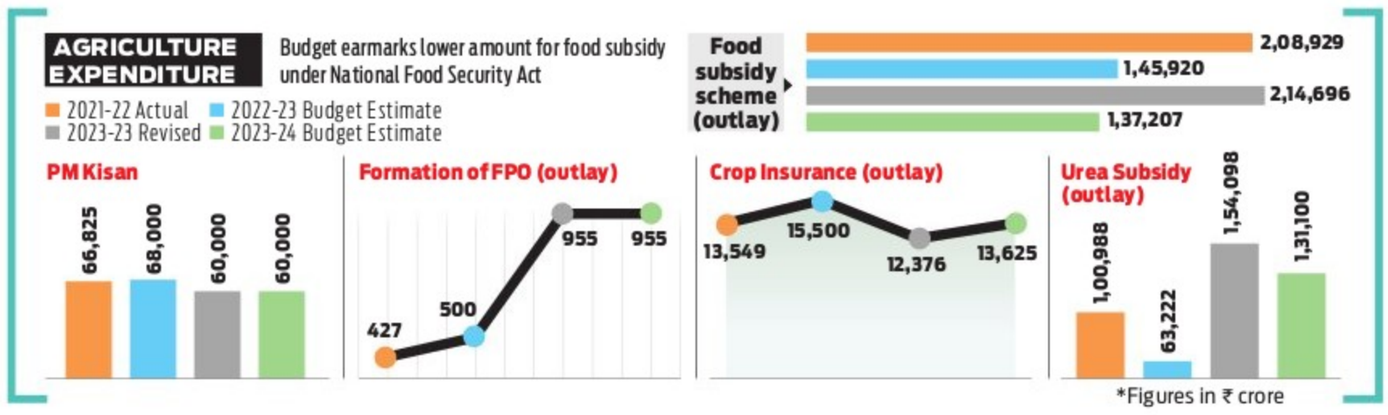
Another flagship scheme, Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi (PM-Kisan), which provides direct income support to farmers ₹6,000 per year, has also decreased in allocation. This year the allocation is ₹60,000 crore, which is less by ₹8,000 crore.

In the meantime, allocation to the promotion of Farmers' Producing Organisations (FPOs) and Distribution of pulses for welfare schemes has increased manifold. In 2021, the government had planned to promote FPOs to support smaller farmers. India has more than 86 per cent of farmers who are small and marginal. FPOs help in the aggregation of small, marginal and landless farmers and help them enhance economic strength and market linkages. FPOs increase the bargaining power of the small and marginal farmers in a collective manner, and it facilitates farmers with access to improved technology.

Finance Minister has said the agriculture credit target will be increased to ₹20 lakh crore with focus on animal husbandry, dairy and fisheries and launched a new sub- scheme of PM Matsya Sampada Yojana with targeted investment of ₹6,000 crore to further enable activities of fish vendors.

Focus on millets

Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman termed the coarse grain crop Millet as 'Shree Anna' and acknowledged health benefits of millets. The water efficient, climate resilient crop has many varieties.



Environment gets little attention, only 1% rise in allocation

FOREST COVER

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE Ministry of Environment, Forests and Climate Change (MoEFCC) has received little attention in the Budget. There is just one per cent increase in the budgetary allocation compared to last year.

The budgetary allocation is ₹3,079.40 crore, just 1 per cent higher than last year's allocation of ₹3,030 crore. Some crucial centrally sponsored schemes such as the National Mission for a Green India (GIM) National Afforestation Programme and Conservation of Aquatic Ecosystems have witnessed a cut in allocation in this budget.

GIM, one of the eight missions under the National Action Plan on Climate Change to protect, restore and enhance India's forest cover, has received only ₹167.28 crore. Last year, this project had received ₹300 crore. The project is meant to increase the forest/tree cover and improve the existing forest quality.

Conservation of Aquatic Ecosystems received an allocation of ₹38.40 crore, whereas it was ₹48.40 crore last year. Even the flagship projects such as Project Tiger and Project Elephant have not received much attention. This budget collectively received ₹331.80 crore, against last year's ₹335 crore.

Even the cheetah project has yet to receive any special attention. PM's Project Cheetah doet not receive fund Prime Minister Narendra Modi's pet project Cheetah is yet to receive any separate fund allocation under the budget 2024.

Cheetah (Acinonyx jubatus), declared extinct in 1952 in India, was introduced in September last year from Namibia with much fanfare to relocate and rehabilitate in the wild of Kuno-Palpur National Park (KNP), Madhya Pradesh.

The Prime Minister, on his birthday, organised a mega event to welcome cheetahs to quarantine enclosures in KNP. Globally, it is the first effort being made to introduce a large carnivore across continents into the wild. No separate allocation of funds for Cheetah conservation has disappointed many people who are engaged in the project. One of the officers said they were expecting a separate flagship programme.

₹15K crore earmarked for tribal welfare for 3 years

VULNERABLITY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

IN a major outreach to the tribal community, the government on Wednesday allocated ₹15,000 crore for tribal welfare in the Budget for the financial year 2023-2024.

Announcing the package, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitaraman said that ₹15,000 crore will be made available to implement the schemes in the next three years.

"To improve the social-economic condition of the particular tribal groups, PMPVTG (Prime Minister's Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups) Development mission will be launched, to saturate PBTG habitations with basic facilities. ₹15,000 crore to be made available to implement the scheme in next three years", said the minister.

According to the website of the Ministry of Tribal Affairs, each school has a capacity of 480 students, catering to students from Class VI to XII.

50 airports, heliports for regional connectivity

AVIATION

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in her budget speech on Wednesday said 50 new airports, helipads and aerodromes will be built to improve regional connectivity.

This announcement came a day after the President Droupadi Murmu said in her first speech in Parliament that India is the third largest civil aviation market. She also said that number of airports has risen from 74 in 2014 to 147 at present.

There is great potential in civil aviation. "The civil aviation sector in India has great potential owing to growing demand from the middle class, growth in population and tourism, higher disposable incomes, favourable demographics, and greater penetration of aviation infrastructure," the economic survey had highlighted.

The current financial year has further shown a rebound, with both passenger and cargo movement close to the pre-COVID-19 levels. The total number of passengers carried in December 2022 stood at 150.1 lakh, which was 106.4 per cent of the pre-Covid level.

Over the past few years, the government has been taking various initiatives, especially the UDAN (Ude Desh ka Aam Naagrik) scheme, to boost the regional air connectivity.

Besides, she said that 100 critical transport infrastructure projects, for last and first mile connectivity for ports, coal, steel, fertiliser, and food grains sectors have been identified.

Mission mode: Govt to pick 50 destinations to develop as a tour package

TOURISM

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Wednesday announced that the tourism promotion would be taken on 'Mission Mode' in collaboration with states and private stakeholders.

Under the Vibrant Villages Programme, tourism infrastructure and amenities will also be facilitated in border villages.

The minister said the sector has huge potential and offers opportunities for job creation and entrepreneurship.

"The country offers immense attraction for domestic and as well as for foreign tourists. There is a large potential to be tapped in tourism. The sector holds huge opportunities for jobs and entrepreneurship for youth in particular. Promotion of tourism will be taken up on mission mode with the active participation of states' convergence of government programmes and public-private partnership," said Sitharaman.

The minister further said that the Government will pick 50 destinations which would be developed as a complete package. In addition to this, the focus will be on to improve physical connectivity, virtual connectivity, availability of tourist guides, high standards for food streets and tourists' security, Sitharaman said.

The finance minister also said that sector specific skilling and entrepreneurship development will be dovetailed to achieve the objectives of the 'Dekho Apna Desh' initiative. This was launched as an appeal by the Prime Minister Narendra Modi to the middle class to prefer domestic tourism over international tourism.

Budget allocation to the tourism ministry this year is ₹2,400 crore, which is same as that of the previous fiscal. Out of this, ₹1,662 crore have been earmarked for integrated development of tourist circuits and infrastructure around religious and spiritual sites.

She said that states would be encouraged to set up a Unity Mall in their state capital or most prominent tourism centre or the financial capital for promotion and sale of their own ODOPs (one district, one product), GI products and other handicraft products, and for providing space for such products of all other States.

Key Focus

- Budget allocation to the tourism ministry this year is ₹2,400 crore
- ₹1,662 crore earmarked for development of tourist circuits and infrastructure around religious
- Focus will be on to improve physical connectivity, virtual connectivity, availability of tourist guides, high standards for food streets and tourists' security

A huge thrust to financialisation of the economy. This is the undercurrent message that stood out in Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman's budget speech. The FM laid out seven priorities (saptarishi) for the country in which 'financial sector' was accorded the seventh place. There are four key announcements that deserve attention. These will pave the way for a financially empowered India where even last mile will be financially educated.

New Tax Regime to Rule

The government had introduced the new tax regime in Budget 2020. This exemption-free tax regime did not find many takers. In Budget 2023, the government has made it the default tax regime. Whatever changes in personal income taxation have happened are linked to the new one. Notably, income up to ₹7 lakh is now tax free, but only in the new tax regime. It is ₹5 lakh in the old one. The government has revised the tax slabs for those who opt for the new regime. Interestingly, it has also introduced standard deduction of Rs 50,000 under the new one. This will ensure people have more income at disposable which may get routed to investments. The government has also reduced the highest effective tax rate from 42.7 per cent to 39 per cent.

Providing more incentives under the new tax regime to middle class will also widen the net of those who can invest.

Simplified KYC

Financialisation at scale is possible only if digital KYC is up and going. FM Sitharaman announced to simplify the KYC process and make it completely digital by adopting a 'risk-based' instead of 'one size fits all' approach. Financial sector regulators are expected to create a KYC system that meets the needs of Digital India. This will ensure the mutual fund industry onboards investors much easily. Moreover, there will be a one stop solution for reconciliation and updating of identity and address of individuals maintained by various government agencies, regulators and regulated entities. It will be established using DigiLocker service and Aadhaar as foundational identity.

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

Financial literacy

Sitharaman emphasised on financial literacy for the young India. She announced setting up National Digital Library for Children. The library will provide reading material and educational resources to children and adolescents. "To inculcate financial literacy, financial sector regulators and organisations will be encouraged to provide age-appropriate reading material to these libraries," the FM said. The MF industry focuses on financial awareness. The industry hopes to welcome more inflows as the young India gets financially literate.

Tax arbitrage gone

Old tax regime offered about 70 tax exemptions and deductions. While individuals have to do their own math about which one works better for them, it seems old tax regime will be phased out. If that happens the tax arbitrage to investments available in section 80-C of Income-Tax Act over mutual funds will be gone. These investments are likely to move to MFs.

Secondly, the government has introduced an amendment in the Finance Bill to tax market linked debentures (MLDs) as short-term capital gains. It fixes a loophole that may drive investments from MLDs to equities.

The time has come for financialisation of savings from old investment avenues such as insurance, fixed deposits and small savings schemes to mutual funds. Personally, one theme that made me smile was the focus on tourism, because India has tremendous potential as a tourist destination and tourism can be a meaningful driver of the economy. Kudos Budget 2023!

INCOME UP TO ₹7L TO ATTRACT NO TAX

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

PROVIDING the much-awaited relief to taxpayers, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman proposed to increase the income- tax rebate limit to ₹7 lakh from ₹5 lakh under the new tax regime and also proposed to revise the tax structure.

"Currently, those with income up to ₹5 lakh do not pay any income tax in both old and new tax regimes. I propose to increase the rebate limit to ₹7 lakh in the new tax regime. Thus, persons in the new tax regime, with income up to ₹7 lakh will not have to pay any tax," said the Finance Minister while presenting the Budget.

In the revised tax slabs under new tax regime, no income tax will be levied till ₹3 lakh, a 5 per cent tax will be levied on total income between ₹3 lakh and ₹6 lakh, 10 per cent will be levied on ₹6 lakh to ₹9 lakh, 15 per cent on ₹9 lakh to ₹12 lakh, 20 per cent on ₹12 lakh to ₹15 lakh and 30 per cent on ₹15 lakh and above.

Tax slabs revised

In the revised tax slabs under new tax regime, no income tax will be levied till ₹3 lakh, a 5 per cent tax will be levied on total income between ₹3 lakh and ₹6 lakh, 10 per cent will be levied on Rs 6 lakh to ₹9 lakh, 15 per cent on Rs 9 lakh to ₹12 lakh, 20 per cent on ₹12 lakh to ₹15 lakh and 30 per cent on ₹5 lakh and above

The new income-tax regime will now become the default option, but taxpayers will have the option to go for the earlier regime. The FM had introduced, in 2020, the new personal income tax regime with six slabs starting from ₹2.5 lakh.

She also proposed to reduce the highest surcharge rate from 37 per cent to 25 per cent in the new tax regime which would result in reduction of the maximum tax rate to 39 per cent.

According to the new structure, an individual with an annual income of ₹9 lakh will be required to pay only ₹45,000 which is only 5 per cent of his or her income.

"It is a reduction of 25 per cent on what he or she is required to pay now, i.e, ₹60,000.

Similarly, an individual with an income of ₹15 lakh would be required to pay only ₹1.5 lakh or 10 per cent of his or her income, a reduction of 20 per cent from the existing liability of ₹1,87,500," said the Finance Minister explaining the benefit of revised tax structure.

The FM also allowed a ₹50,000 standard deduction to taxpayers under the new regime.

She said that as a result of these proposals, revenue of about ₹38,000 crore- ₹37,000 crore in direct taxes and ₹1,000 crore in indirect taxes — will be forgone while revenue of about ₹3,000 crore will be additionally mobilized. Thus, the total revenue forgone is about ₹35,000 crore annually.

₹10k minimum threshold on TDS removed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE Union government will remove the minimum threshold of ₹10,000 for TDS relating to online gaming.

During her speech, Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman spoke about removing the minimum threshold of ₹10,000 for TDS .

"Income from online gaming is considered as 'income from other sources' as per Section 115BB of the Income Tax Act. As per earlier provisions, if prize money exceeds ₹10,000 then entity is required to deduct TDS at 30 per cent plus surcharge and cess before giving money to the beneficiary," said Amit Jindal, co-founder, Felix Advisory.

The beneficiary is required to show this amount when filing Income Tax Return and non-reporting can lead to penalty of upto 200 per cent of the tax amount.

As per proposed Finance Bill 2023, with effect from July 1, 2023, the government has tightened the framework for TDS by removing the threshold limit of ₹10,000 to regulate the flow of money spent and winning in the online gaming sector, he added.

Many new age gaming start-ups have been launched in the last few years and at present 18 per cent tax is being levied on commissions collected by these online platforms for games.

Steep rise: Tax on overseas tour packages up by 20%

TCS

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Centre has raised the tax collection at source (TCS) on sale of overseas tour packages to 20 per cent from 5 per cent earlier without any threshold. Also, tax collection at source has been increased to 20 per cent on foreign remittances (except for the education and healthcare needs) where the aggregate amount exceeds ₹7 lakh or above.

"Tour packages are generally taken by people, whose effective tax rate is certainly more than 30 per cent, so if we are charging them at 30 per cent, then certainly it is not high. Our attempt has always been to charge TDS at similar rates if not exactly the same rates," Sanjay Malhotra, Revenue Secretary, said.

On the question of the need to lower the highest surcharge on the super rich to 25 per cent from 37 per cent, he said, "We had the highest tax rate on individuals compared with many advanced countries. It was introduced as an interim and now it has been reduced."

"The move is towards lower rates but fewer avoidance measures and exemptions. If you look at high networth individuals there are a number of tax removal measures in this budget along with the reduction in surcharge," TV Somanathan, Expediture Secretary said.

Sounds good: Investment limit for senior citizens increased to ₹30 lakh

SMALL SAVINGS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

FINANCE Minister Nirmala Sitharaman has announced a new saving scheme for women that will offer a fixed rate of 7.5%. Available for a 2-year period up to March 2025, Mahila Samman Savings certificate will have an option for partial withdrawal.

"For commemorating Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav, a one-time new small saving scheme Mahila Samman Savings certificate will be available for a 2-year period up to March 2025," said the Finance Minister in her budget speech. "This will offer deposit facility up to ₹2 lakh in the name of women or girls for a tenor of 2 years at fixed interest rate of 7.5 per cent with partial withdrawal option," she added.

Sitharaman also gave a reason to cheer to the senior citizens, as she proposed to double the maximum investment limit for senior citizen saving scheme accounts from ₹ 15 lakh to ₹30 lakh. "The senior citizens saving scheme will be extended for a deposit account of ₹30 lakh from ₹15 lakh," she said.

Similarly, the minister proposed to increase the maximum investment limit in post office Monthly Income Account Scheme to ₹9 lakh for a single account and ₹15 lakh for joint accounts. "The maximum deposit limit for Monthly Income Account Scheme will be enhanced from ₹4.5 lakh to ₹ 9 lakh for single account and from ₹9 lakh to ₹15 lakh for joint account," she said.

The senior citizens saving scheme offers 8 per cent interest per annum while post office Monthly Income Scheme offers 7.1 per cent interest.

Last month, the government announced a hike in small savings interest rates by up to 1.1 percentage points for the January-March quarter.

No cheers: Insurance sector disappointed with proposal to remove tax exemption

INSURANCE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai

INSURANCE sector was disappointed with budget as Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman proposed to remove tax exemption for insurance policies with annual premium of over ₹5 lakh. The frustration was visible in the stock market as shares of insurance company tanked by up to 10 per cent on Wednesday.

As per the new proposal if the annual premium paid by the customer for insurance policy is more than ₹5 lakh then the income from the policy on maturity will be taxed. Currently, the proceeds from the maturity of such policies is exempt from tax. The new proposal will not impact taxation of unit-linked insurance plans.

"It is proposed to provide that where aggregate of premium for life insurance policies (other than Unit Linked Insurance Plan) issued on or after 1 April, 2023 is above ₹5 lakh, income from only those policies with aggregate premium up to ₹5 lakh shall be exempt," said the Finance Minister while presenting the budget.

As per the budget proposal, this will not affect the tax exemption provided to the amount received on the death of a person insured. Insurance policies issued till March 31, this year will not be affected by the new proposal.

TAX ON INSURANCE POLICIES

Budget proposes to remove tax exemption for insurance policies with annual premium of over ₹5 lakh

Currently, the proceeds from the maturity of such policies is exempt from tax

New proposal will not impact taxation of unit-linked insurance plans

Insurance company shares fall up to 10%

Reacting to the new proposal, shares of life insurance companies plunged in the stock market. Shares of Life Insurance Corporation of India fell over 8 per cent to close at ₹599 apiece on the Bombay Stock Exchange on Wednesday while ICICI Prudential Life Insurance Company's share plunged 11 per cent to ₹403 apiece. Following the similar trend, shares of SBI Life Insurance Company's shares declined 9 per cent to ₹1,106 apiece while shares of HDFC Life Insurance Company were down 11 per cent to close at ₹515.5 apiece on the BSE.

"The income from traditional insurances where the premium is over ₹5 lakh will not be tax exempt. While, this will dampen the interest of individuals to buy high value traditional insurances, it will increase the focus on term plans and pure risk covers which is good. A concern is that it should not result in a significant shift towards purely investment oriented unit link insurances," says Kapil Mehta Co-founder, SecureNow Insurance Broker.

Experts say though this may discourage ones to buy high value traditional insurances, it will increase the focus on term plans and pure risk covers which is good.

SAI may field teams across disciplines in national competitions

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

THIS could change the dynamics of sports in the country. If everything goes as per plan and requisite permission is obtained, the Sports Authority of India (SAI) may field a separate team from different disciplines in various leagues and national competitions. The SAI has already initiated a process in this regard by sending a letter to heads of all its academic institutions and regional centres informing them about the proposed Inter-SAI competitions for all disciplines.

"It has been decided that Inter-SAI competitions for all disciplines may be held, so that the available talent could be identified, ranked and a combined team of SAI can be prepared that can participate in various leagues and national competitions whenever it is permitted. Performance of athletes during the inter-SAI tournament can be a parameter for their retention also," said the letter dated January 31, 2023.

What is not clear is about those athletes who train at the NCOEs and are part of national camps. For the last few years, the SAI has been conducting national camps of each federation at their centres. Institutional teams like Railways, Services, All India Police, which are affiliated to National Sports Federations (NSFs) are already participating in nationals. A timeline has also been given for conducting the tournament. The regions have to select teams either by organising trials or competitions by February 7. Inter-SAI competition has to be finished before March 5 and the report of the same has to be submitted along with the rank list by the high performance manager by March 15, reads the letter. To supervise the process and ensure the competitions are conducted smoothly, lead regional directors have been appointed for each discipline. They will be responsible for conducting the competitions in their respective disciplines and also preparing the final ranking of the athletes.

A five-member selection committee has also been constituted for ranking of athletes and selection of a combined team for the Inter-SAI competition for each discipline. The lead regional director of that particular discipline will be the chairperson of the committee. The committee shall also provide the ranking of athletes and suggest their suitability for their selection in the national centre of excellence (NCOE) and SAI training centres (STC). The letter also says that the lead regional directors can decide the number of teams for a particular discipline if the number of athletes is more in that particular sport. The need for fielding more than one team from any region can also be decided by the lead RD. "In case, where there is less number of athletes which are not sufficient to constitute a team (team game), the regional director shall have the liberty to take athletes from the NCOE or from any other STC wherever possible. However, as the target is on STC, NCOE athletes can be taken only if the STC athletes are exhausted irrespective of their playing capacities," says the letter.

The lead RD can decide on the venue. The official has to identify any of the STC or regional centre under them where the basic facilities are available to organise the competition for the purpose. A budget will also be sanctioned for the event including ₹25,000 each for the opening and closing ceremonies. Other expenditures, which were included in the budget are ₹20,000 for sports equipment, ₹ 30,000 for official/technical, ₹10,000 for medical expenses and ₹20,000 for prizes and certificates.

The total amount is ₹1,50,000 but the letter says that the maximum limits can be reduced further as per actual. The high performance manager of each discipline has to supervise the entire process. The official will also assist the lead RDs to conduct the inter-SAI tournament following which a combined SAI team would be selected.

India's Shubman Gill celebrates after scoring a century during the third T20I against New Zealand on Wednesday | AFP

Gill goes for kill, India claim series

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

FIELDING. Good. Bowling. Better. Batting. Best. Shubman Gill. Outstanding. On a night when the hosts decided to deal only in the extraordinary, Gill once again showcased his natural talent with minimum of fuss. He may still not be a natural in the game's shortest format, but you can see why the management are investing in him, at least in the short-term.

Middling career numbers and a very meh introduction to T20Is (76 runs from five matches at 128.81) didn't count for much because he's very much a project player. Keep working on him till he's chiselled. If Ranchi (seven off six) and Lucknow (11 off nine) offered Gill's present, Ahmedabad was a thrilling vista into his potential, even in what can safely be said is his weakest format as a batter. While the strip contributed to the opener's unbeaten 126 — he became one of the very few Indian batters to have international centuries in all three formats — he still had to make those runs. And the way he made those was reminiscent of all those effortless white-ball runs Virat Kohli used to make.

BRIEF SCORES

India 234/4 in 20 ovs (Gill 126 n.o, Tripathi 44, Hardik 30; Mitchell 1/6) bt New Zealand 66 in 12.1 ovs (Mitchell 35; Hardik 4/16).

Go at over run-a-ball to begin with, maintain the tempo in the middle overs before going after the pacers at the end. Seventeen came off his first 10 and 29 came off his next 20 as he opted to not hit the spinners. Forty-six off 30 after the first 10 overs meant he was going slower than the other batters on average but he upped the ante after Suryakumar Yadav departed in the 13th over.

Sixty off his 73 runs came in fours (20) or sixes (42) as he made himself familiar with the vast parts of the mid-wicket region. Both Benjamin Lister and Lockie Ferguson, Gill's franchise teammate, disappeared for plenty in the back-end of the innings. It was exhibition batting — Gill has so much time to play his shots he seldom hits — in what was veritably a decider. The target of 235 was always going to be a big ask and the visitors didn't look like putting up any resistance as soon as they lost their first wicket for four. In the end, the hosts were bundled out for a paltry 66. In the bigger scheme of things, fortunes continue to turn for the better for Gill who has had quite the start to 2023. He has made 34.5 per cent of all his white ball runs in his last six games. This period has also seen him make three of his five white-ball 100s.

Welcome to what could be the year of Gill.

RISE IN BUDGET, BOOST FOR ALL

More for Khelo India despite less utilisation of funds last year

INDRANEEL DAS @ Chennai

THE sports budget looks healthier than last edition. Perhaps, all stakeholders, including the National Sports Federations (NSFs), will be satisfied. The budget has increased from ₹3062.60 crore in 2022-23 to ₹3397.62 crore (including capital ₹7.76 crore) in 2023-24. Though it is a marginal increase of around 10 per cent but if compared with the revised budget of ₹2673.25 crore in 2022-23, it's about ₹724 crore.

The difference in the estimate and revised could be because of allocations under the head of Khelo India — India National Programme for Development of Sports. In 2022-23, the allocation was ₹974 crore, while the revised estimate is only ₹600 crore. It needs to be seen whether it is due to the postponement of Khelo India Youth, University Games and Winter Games in 2021. However, the actual figures might change after the financial year.

Khelo India gets max

Like the previous years, Khelo India seems to be the flagship programme. What seems interesting is that the Khelo India Youth Games are being held twice in this financial year — once it was held during June in Haryana last year (it was supposed to be held in 2021) while it is being held in Madhya Pradesh now, days before the commencement of the board exams for Class X and XII students. Whether it is to justify the budgetary allocations or extraordinary interest of the sports ministry and the Sports Authority of India, we don't know. Yet, despite revised budget of ₹600 crore against ₹974 crore in 2022-23, this time the allocation has been increased to ₹1000 crore. Khelo India has 12 verticals for sports development and promotion in grassroots. The SAI, too, is scouting talent from these Games are including athletes in junior national camps conducted at the National Centres of Excellence. They also support various training centres across to country where junior athletes train.

UNION BUDGET 2023-24

Increase in NSFs funds

Under assistance to NSFs head, a sum of ₹325 crore has been allocated. There is an increase as against ₹112.07 crore in 2021-22 and ₹280 crore in 2022-23. The NSFs funds are allocated "to recognized National Sports Federations for sending their teams abroad for training and participation in internationals tournaments, for holding international tournaments in India, for conducting National Championships and for procuring sports equipments. Financial assistance is also extended through SAI for organising coaching camps, for preparing national teams and for engaging the services of foreign coaches."

The ministry funds athletes' training through Annual Calendar for Training and Competition chalked out by the NSFs in consultation with SAI. It is understood that the government is keen to host more international competitions in India and there are quite a few lined up as well. Since ministry gives grants to host international competitions to the NSFs, it needs funds as well.

Since the Asian Games and the 2024 Olympic qualifying cycle begins this year, there will be more thrust on international exposure and training.

SAI gets more

The funding to SAI too has increased from next year. This time the budgetary allocation has been ₹785.52 crore against revised estimate of ₹749 crore in 2022-23. In 2021-22 the actual budget was ₹579.43 crore. National Anti-Doping Agency and the National Dope Testing Laboratory too have got quota of funds. NDTL is getting ₹19.50 cr and NADA will get ₹21.73 cr. India's contribution towards WADA has gone up to ₹4cr.

Record-breaking transfer window

Chelsea led the Premier League in spending a fortune while the other sides maintained a watching brief. A look at the winter transfer window...

A SKEWED ECONOMY

While even the richest clubs all over Europe kept a tight leash on their wallets, clubs in England couldn't stop spending. This wave of transfers, thanks to a very rich broadcasting deal, was kick-started by Chelsea, who are under new ownership. But it wasn't just limited to them.

MUDRYK-ENZO HEADLINE DEALS

Chelsea's moves for Mykhailo Mudryk and Enzo Fernandez grabbed the eyeballs for obvious reasons. In all, these two signings itself cost the club north of 160 million pounds. Apart from these two, they also acquired the likes of Joao Felix, Andrey Santos and Benoit Badiashile.

CITY SHOCKER: Cultured defender Joao Cancelo left the defending champions, Manchester City, after falling out with Pep Guardiola. He joined Bayern Munich on an initial six-month loan. It was a shock as it the move came out of nowhere.

ARSENAL STRENGTHEN, L'POOL SETTLE FOR CODY

Arsenal failed in their pursuit of Mudryk but still walked away with a feeling of 'job done' as they signed Leandro Trossard, Jakub Kiwior and Jorginho in a triple deal worth over 45 million pounds. Liverpool ignored an area of weakness in centre midfield but still signed Cody Gakpo, one of the stars of the World Cup.

121 Chelsea signed Enzo Fernandez for 121m euros ($131m), making the Argentine the most expensive Premier League transfer ever. The previous record was 113m euros ($123m) that Man City paid to Aston Villa for Jack Grealish in 2021.

Vihari bats left-handed, helps Andhra reach 379

AGENCIES @ Indore

IN an act of bravery, Andhra skipper Hanuma Vihari batted left-handed and defied the speedy Avesh Khan to add 26 runs for the 10th wicket to help the team reach 379 against Madhya Pradesh on the second day of the Ranji Trophy quarterfinal here on Wednesday.

Andhra then reduced the defending champions to 144 for 4 at stumps to seize control of the match.

Resuming at the overnight score of 262 for 2, things did not go Andhra's way as the hard-working MP bowlers hit back after toiling hard during the massive 251-run stand between Ricky Bhui (149) and Karan Shinde (110).

Shinde reached his ton off 254 balls even as Bhui kept going to frustrate the home team's bowling attack.

Medium pacer Anubhav Agarwal (4 for 72) broke the partnership when he got Shinde to nick one to wicket-keeper Himanshu Mantri with the score at 323. Five runs later, Bhui's marathon innings ended when he was caught by Saransh Jain in the covers off Agarwal.

The MP bowlers then got into the act and struck at regular intervals to leave Andhra at 353 for 9 when Vihari walked in to bat. Batting left-handed after injuring his left hand wrist, the Andhra captain managed to hit a couple of boundaries to make sure the team total swelled to 379. He batted with only one hand.

He was dismissed LBW by Jain for 27. He had retired hurt on Tuesday on 16 after being hit by a bouncer from Avesh.

Collaboration with cricket boards key for growth: ICC GM

GOMESH S @ Chennai

WITH all the buzz around the inaugural Women's Premier League — India's latest franchise-based T20 tournament set to take place in March — and the BCCI has already made 5620.99 crores from the auction of the teams and the media rights.

In a year where the ICC has two global women's events, the recently concluded U19 World Cup and the senior T20 World Cup, it only adds value to Women's cricket as a standalone market product. ICC General Manager - Cricket Wasim Khan feels so as well.

"I think it's only a good thing," said Wasim in the ICC U19 and Senior Women's T20 WC media roundtable on Wednesday. "I think that we've made our ambitions clear over the last 12 to 18 months, in particular around the growth of women's cricket... I think what we've seen in recent events in India is that India will continue to lead the way with regards to a lot of initiatives around women's cricket."

He said that the values for which the teams were bought only reiterate the value of women's cricket and how potential investors see it. "I know that, particularly around Bangladesh and Sri Lanka and Pakistan and places like that, there's still a lot of development required in terms of really valuing women's cricket, but certainly, it's a lot better than what it was 12 to 18 months ago. So, I think, we very much want to happen in India as a catalyst to try and really drive the game to even greater levels. And I think that combination of ourselves working with the cricket boards, we certainly believe that in five years' time, the landscape is gonna (going to) look very, very different," he added.

With the WPL getting underway, it only adds to the list of already existing leagues like the WBBL, The Hundred, the CPL, and the Fairbreak Tournament. Unlike men's cricket – where the progression towards T20 leagues happened gradually – here it is all happening simultaneously in the women's game. When asked if this would lead to a schedule cramp sooner than expected, Wasim is optimistic that it would not. "One of the good things about the global cricket family is that we do talk to each other, and I think that it doesn't serve any purpose to cram lots of tournaments in one space. If it's possible, we want there to be some parity in the calendar to allow everybody to have a very successful tournament. With the women's game, we remain sort of in the embryonic stage in terms of local domestic T20 tournaments being set up. We've had two or three established ones, as you mentioned, but the more we can encourage this to happen and the better." said Wasim.

Khawaja belatedly gets visa for India Test series

AFP @ Sydney

PAKISTAN-BORN Australian batter Usman Khawaja was on Wednesday belatedly issued his Indian visa and will join his teammates who have already departed for next week's four-Test tour, an Indian diplomat said.

Khawaja — who moved to Australia aged four — has toured India before, but also faced delays on that occasion with his visa taking longer than Australia-born teammates.

"Waiting for my Indian Visa," Khawaja said on Instagram, above an image of a popular meme conveying loneliness.

India's High Commissioner to Australia tweeted in response later that Khawaja's visa had been "issued and collected from our Consulate General in Melbourne".

"Let's have a great #BorderGavaskarTrophy series!" Manpreet Vohra tweeted. He did not elaborate on the reasons for the visa delay.

Australian media reported that touring players and support staff began receiving visas in early January, and some have already begun arriving in Bengaluru, where the team will set up pre-match camp.

Australia is trying to win its first Test series in India in almost a decade. Tests will be played in Nagpur, Delhi, Dharamsala and Ahmedabad.

After being left out of the Test side for about two years Khawaja made a stunning return against England in the 2021-2022 Ashes.

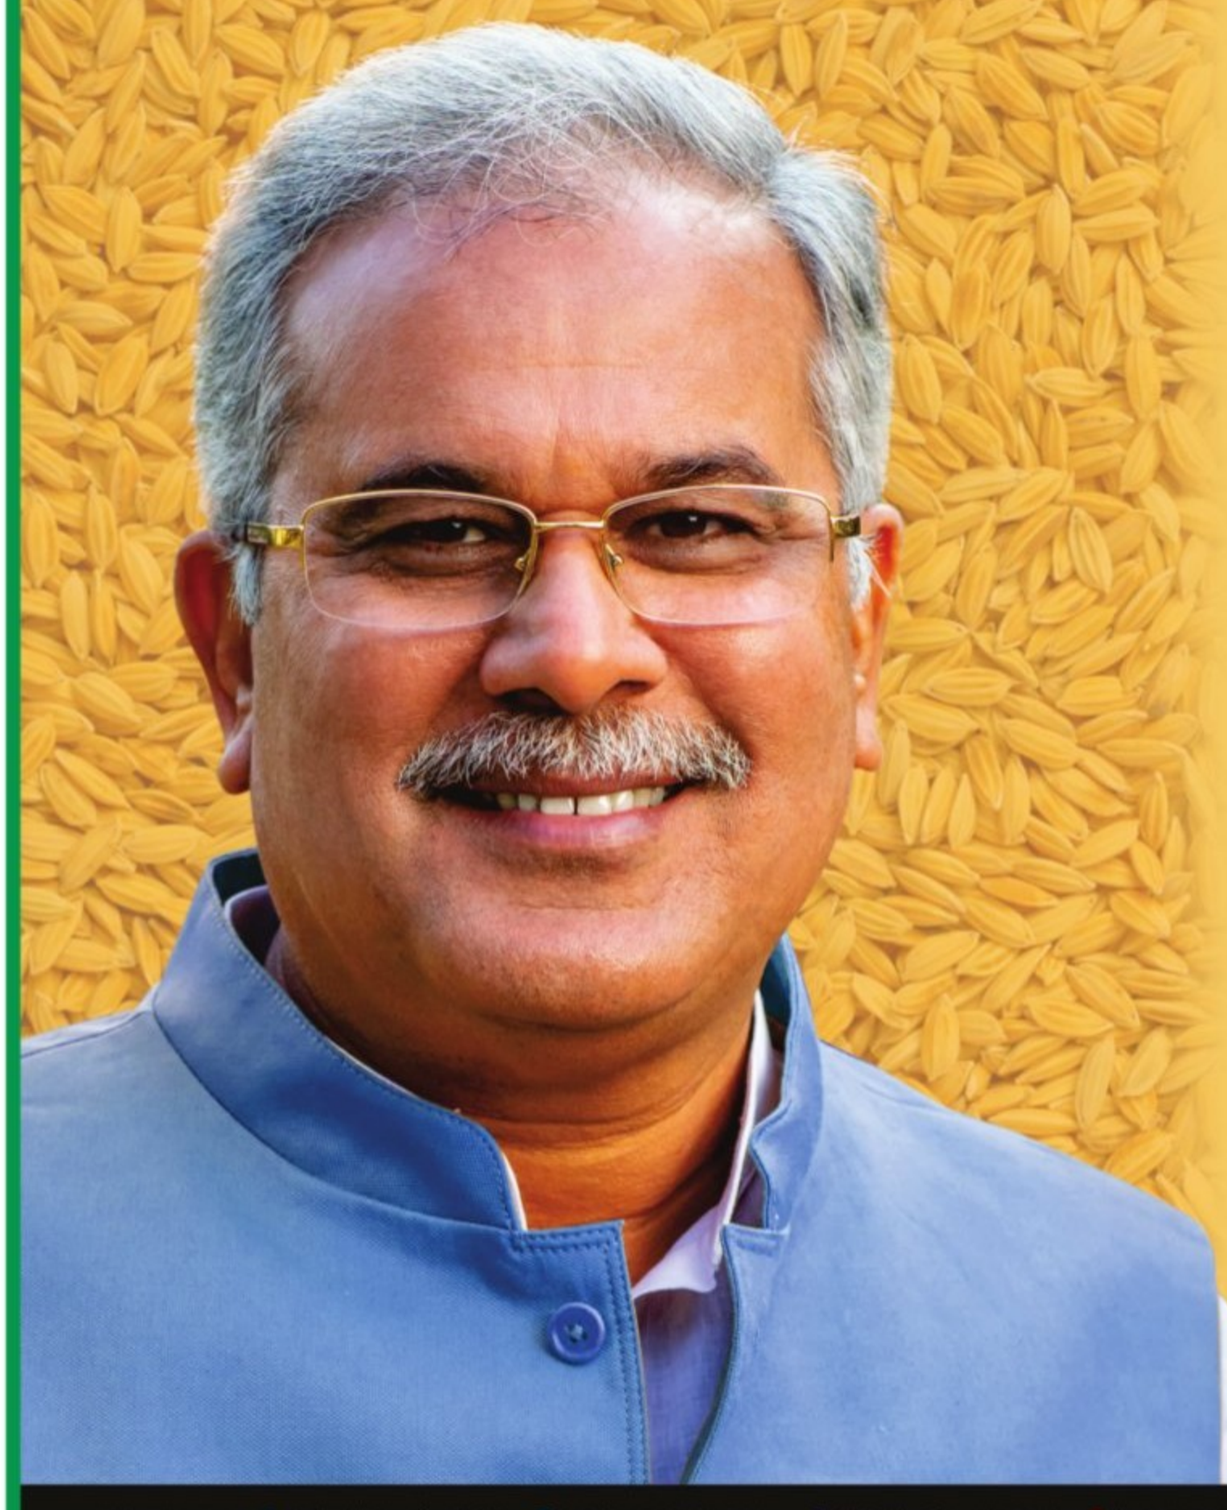
Highest Ever Paddy Procurement

1crore 7 lakh 53 thousand MT paddy procured from 23.5 lakh farmers

₹21,963 cr direct payment to farmers towards paddy procurement

In 3 years govt provides ₹16,415 cr in input subsidy to farmers

Growth in acreage and produce like never before
Agriculture brings new hope



Due to unpredictable nature of farming, the number of farmers in the country is continuously declining. In the year 2018, our govt waived off agriculture loan of state's 18 lakh farmers. The input subsidy provided under Rajiv Gandhi Kisan Nyay Yojana has brought down the cost of farming due to which our farmers are getting highest price of paddy in the country. State's agriculture sector has registered an unprecedented growth. The current year has witnessed the highest ever paddy procurement. In the year 2022-23, we have procured a record 107.53 lakh MT paddy from 30.14 lakh hectares acreage as compared to year 2017-18 when 56.89 lakh MT paddy was procured from 19.36 lakh hectares. The number of the paddy farmers has grown from 12.06 lakh to 23.50 lakh in same period. Due to profitability in agriculture, new employment opportunities have been created in the sector. We will continue to work for the prosperity of our farmers and laborers.

Half a million UK workers stage walkout demanding higher pay

Unions accuse millionaire Sunak of being out of touch with challenges faced by commoners

LONDON

MORE than half a million workers went on strike in Britain on Wednesday, calling for higher wages in the largest such walkout in over a decade, closing schools and severely disrupting transport.

As Europe battles a cost-of-living crisis, Britain's umbrella labour organisation the Trades Union Congress (TUC) called it the "biggest day of strike action since 2011".

The latest strikes come a day after more than 1.27 million took to the streets in France, increasing pressure on the French government over pension reform plans.

British Prime Minister Rishi Sunak has called for pay rises to be "reasonable" and "affordable" warning that big pay rises would jeopardise attempts to tame inflation.

But unions have accused millionaire Sunak of being out of touch with the challenges faced by ordinary working people struggling to make ends meet in the face of low paid, insecure work and spiralling costs.

Teachers hold placards as they take part in a protest in Manchester | AFP

Teachers and train drivers were among the latest groups to act, as well as border force workers at UK air and seaports."The workload is always bigger and bigger and with the inflation our salary is lower and lower," London teacher Nigel Adams, 57, told AFP as he joined thousands of teachers marching through central London.

"We're exhausted. We're paying the price and so are the children," he added as protesters held up placards reading "Pay Up" and "We can't put your kids first if you put their teachers last".

Britain has witnessed months of strikes by tens of thousands of workers — including postal staff, lawyers, nurses and employees in the retail sector — as UK inflation raced above 11%, the highest level in more than 40 years. Job centre worker and union representative, Graham, who preferred not to give his last name said workers had no choice but to strike faced with soaring costs.

"Some of our members, even though they are working, still have to make visits to food banks," he said.

"Not only are wages not keeping up, but things like fares, council tax and rents are going up. Anything we get is eaten away," he added.

FBI SEARCHES BIDEN'S HOME FOR SECRET FILES

WASHINGTON

US law enforcement began a search on Wednesday of President Joe Biden's beach house in Delaware, his lawyer said, in the latest stage of an operation to track down improperly stored classified documents.

The search in Rehoboth, which attorney Bob Bauer said was done "with the president's full support and cooperation," followed similar searches that turned up small numbers of documents in Biden's home in Wilmington and a former office space in Washington, DC.

The drip of revelations has been a drag on Biden as he celebrates the mid-point in his first term and reportedly prepares to announce he's running for a second. A special counsel has been appointed by the Justice Department to run an independent investigation, similar to another special counsel overseeing the probe of Donald Trump's huge stash of classified documents discovered at his home in Florida.

According to the White House, Biden's problem is down to accidental mistakes in storing documents from a decade ago when he was vice president under Barack Obama.

Unlike Trump, who resisted handing over hundreds of classified documents after leaving the White House in 2021, Biden says he has cooperated with the authorities ever since the discovery of a handful of classified documents in a former office he used at a think tank in Washington.

A subsequent search by the FBI of his main private home in Wilmington turned up more documents. The Rehoboth property, which he uses much less often, is now the third location to be inspected by the authorities.

In his statement, Bauer said the Justice Department launched the Rehoboth search without "advance public notice, and we agreed to cooperate."

"The search today is a further step in a thorough and timely DOJ process we will continue to fully support and facilitate. We will have further information at the conclusion of today's search."

US Federal Reserve set to slow rate hikes

WASHINGTON

THE Federal Reserve started the second day of its policy meeting Wednesday, on growing expectations that it will step down to a smaller interest rate hike as red-hot inflation shows signs of cooling. But the US central bank is likely to push on with efforts to rein in costs, concerned about the risks of taking its foot off the gas too quickly.

The Fed cranked up the benchmark lending rate seven times last year, including four consecutive 0.75 percentage point increases, lifting borrowing costs in hopes of dampening demand. The aim is to rein in inflation, which surged to its fastest pace in decades in mid-2022 but has since come off a peak. In a statement, a Federal Reserve spokesperson said the policy-setting Federal Open Market Committee meeting started at 9am ET (1400 GMT) as scheduled. Policymakers are widely expected to announce a 0.25 percentage point rate hike at the end of their two-day gathering, slowing from a half-point increase in December and steeper hikes before that. But Ryan Sweet, chief US economist at Oxford Economics, anticipates this will be accompanied by signals that the Fed is not done yet. "They want concrete evidence that they've killed inflation, and they haven't yet," he told AFP. "However, it is sticky services prices that will keep the Fed on its rate-hiking course," he said in a recent report.

India, US elevate strategic partnership with initiative on emerging technology

WASHINGTON

INDIA and the United States have elevated their strategic partnership with the launch of the initiative on Critical and Emerging Technology or iCET, the White House said as National Security Advisor Ajit Doval met his US counterpart Jake Sullivan here.

"We are committed to fostering an open, accessible, and secure technology ecosystem, based on mutual trust and confidence, that will reinforce our democratic values and democratic institutions," the White House said in a fact sheet following the conclusion of the iCET inaugural meeting between Doval and Sullivan on Tuesday.

iCET is being launched at the direction of US President Joe Biden and Prime Minister Narendra Modi who after their Tokyo meeting in May 2022 had announced to elevate and expand the strategic technology partnership and defense industrial cooperation between the governments, businesses, and academic institutions of the two countries.

"The United States and India affirm that the ways in which technology is designed, developed, governed, and used should be shaped by our shared democratic values and respect for universal human rights. We are committed to fostering an open, accessible, and secure technology ecosystem, based on mutual trust and confidence, that will reinforce our democratic values and democratic institutions," the White House said.

Doval and Sullivan were joined by high level officials from both sides in the meeting.

The Indian delegation included Ambassador of India to the United States, the Principal Scientific Advisor to the Government of India, Chairman of the Indian Space Research Organization, Secretary of the Department of Telecommunications, Director General of the Defence Research and Development Organisation.

Following the dialogue, a senior administration official said, they expect an intensified pace of high-level engagements along the way.

Pak inflation rises to 48-year high of 27% in January

ISLAMABAD

Inflation has risen to a 48-year high in crisis-hit Pakistan, where the International Monetary Fund is visiting for urgent talks, according to data released on Wednesday by the country's statistics bureau.

Year-on-year inflation in January 2023 was recorded at 27.55%, the highest since May 1975, with thousands of containers of imports held up at Karachi port.

Pakistan's economy is in dire straits, stricken by a balance of payments crisis while it attempts to service high amounts of external debt.

The world's fifth-biggest population has less than $3.7 billion in the state bank — enough for just three weeks.

On Tuesday, an IMF delegation arrived in Islamabad to revive negotiations over a stalled bailout package with the government, which has so far held out from meeting the global lender's tough conditions.

But in recent days, with the prospect of national bankruptcy looming and no friendly countries willing to offer less painful bailouts, Islamabad has started to bow to pressure.

The government loosened controls on the rupee to rein in a rampant black market in US dollars, a step that caused the currency to plunge to a record low. Artificially cheap petrol prices have also been hiked.

The state bank is no longer issuing letters of credit, except for essential food and medicines, causing a backlog of thousands of shipping containers at Karachi port stuffed with stock the country can no longer afford.

Industry has been hammered by the imports block and massive rupee devaluation. Public construction projects have halted, textiles factories have partially shut down and domestic investment has slowed.

17 arrested as Pak Army chief directs forces to go after terrorists

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S security agencies arrested 17 suspects in connection with the suicide blast in a high-security zone mosque in Peshawar that killed 101 people, including 97 policemen, as Army chief Gen Asim Munir vowed zero tolerance for terror groups and directed his generals to eliminate the threat of militancy.

A Taliban suicide bomber who was present in the front row during the Zuhr (afternoon) prayers on Monday blew himself up, causing the roof to collapse on the worshippers.

Sources said that the security agencies have arrested 17 suspects involved in the devastating blast — deadliest attack on the security personnel in decades in Pakistan.

The army chief referred to the Peshawar mosque attack and said that "such immoral and cowardly acts cannot shake the resolve of the nation rather reinvigorate our determination to succeed in ongoing war against terror with zero tolerance for any terrorist entity," according to a statement issued by the army.

General Munir "directed all commanders to continue focus on anti-terrorism operations in coordination with intelligence and law enforcement agencies with renewed resolve till the time we achieve sustainable peace," the statement said.

TTP strikes again

The new tax regime will simplify the process of tax planning. It takes a straightforward approach so you will know how much tax you need to pay depending on your income. While the new tax regime gives us more cash in our hands, we still need to plan our finances properly.

The focus on green energy transition shines through with allocations for green hydrogen, energy storage, building next-generation talent, etc. While we await measures towards better managing state-level T&D networks, the government's vision to develop long-gestation ISTS to evacuate and integrate bulk solar power, before setting up fast turnaround solar power plants is a welcome reaffirmation of India's energy transition.

The tech initiatives in the budget – the adoption of AI in KYC, PAN as a universal business identifier, the call to make AI work for India, the establishment of 5G labs - will pave the way for greater experiments and innovations in India.

It is disappointing that the F&B industry was not discussed in this year's session. The industry suffered the pandemic but no benefits were given. Some businesses that opened just before the pandemic were forced to close. As per the Covid assessment report shared by the National Restaurant Association of India (NRAI), the industry suffered a 53% decline in FY21 over FY20. The industry employs over 7 million people and needs a revival package to return to its original strength.

ON Wednesday, a group of over 30 women gathered to watch, discuss and debate the Union Budget at a co-working space in the city. Part of Millennium Mams', a Kolkata-based not-for-profit organisation, this group discussed the financial impact of this year's budget. The buzz in the room revolved around the maintenance of the fiscal deficit at 6.4 per cent, the increase in tax exemption limits, and the Mahila Bachat Scheme.

"I loved the idea of the savings scheme for women which will enable making deposits and hence saving up. The interest rates are certainly something that look great for them. We have become the fifth largest economy from the 10th in a span of nine years. Apart from that, the schemes for the bubbling youth population as well as the budget allocated for infrastructure look interesting," says Shalini Manglani, a committee member of the organisation. "The money that the middle-class saves through the reforms will again be spent, which will only further act as a catalyst for a better economy. The relief will be felt throughout the country," she adds.

The growth of the economy by 7 per cent is incredible, says committee member Jasbir Puravankara after the screening. "The Budget gives a big boost to the agri sector, especially with it being a state subject. The decisions on education, digitisation of our economy, and health will certainly drive our economy further," she says.

About the takeaways from the Budget, Bishnu Dhanuka, co-founder shared with CE, "They have maintained a 6.4% fiscal deficit and announced a 5.9% fiscal deficit for the upcoming year, which puts the country in a reliable position, globally. A big change in personal income tax... an increase in the income tax rebate limit from ₹5 lakh to ₹7 lakh and increasing the tax exemption limit to ₹3 lakh. We can also see big spending in agriculture with ₹20 lakh crore assigned as agro-credit. A big push in infrastructure with railways getting ₹2.4 lakh crore which is nine times more than in 2014."

Vice-president Nameeta Mohanka is looking out for the agri-startup initiatives and the boost to MSMEs. "Infrastructure outlay has increased by 33 per cent (₹10 lakh crore) which is 3.3% of GDP. The infra development will be an investment for our future," she says.

CANCER SURVIVORSHIP

TACKLING THE LATE EFFECTS

DR KAKOLI LAHKAR

As per international statistics, with current treatment techniques, almost two out of three cancers are curable. However, being cured is often not the end of the road for most cancer survivors. Cancer survivorship refers to the physical, psychological, and socioeconomic aspects of life for individuals diagnosed with and treated for cancer. It covers the period of time from diagnosis to the end of life and encompasses a range of issues and challenges that may arise, including long-term health conditions and side-effects of treatment, recurrence/relapse of cancer, second cancers, financial and employment difficulties, and changes in relationships and personal identity.

The number of cancer survivors has increased tremendously over the past three decades with improvements in healthcare to detect and provide therapeutic treatment. Latest studies indicate a steady increase in the 5-year relative survival rate as it currently stands at 66% for adults and 80% for children. Among all survivors, prostate cancer accounts for the highest number of diagnoses (44%) for male cancer survivors, followed by genitourinary cancers (12%) and colorectal cancer (11%). In female survivors, the most frequently diagnosed types are breast cancer (43%), gynaecological cancers (17%), and colorectal cancer (10%).

Effects

Cancer survivors may experience common late effects such as chronic fatigue syndrome, pain, difficulty with physical function, hormonal imbalances, infertility, and radiation-induced secondary cancers. Long-term health conditions that may arise include increased incidence of chronic diseases involving the heart (heart attacks, heart failure, etc.), kidneys, blood dyscrasias, diabetes, etc. Psychological late effects (depression, anxiety, and stress) and cognitive effects (changes in thinking, memory, and concentration) may also be evident. These effects can impact various aspects of life, such as physical, mental, and reproductive health as well as one's social and interpersonal relationships. Hence, it is important for cancer survivors to be informed about these potential long-term effects and to have access to appropriate support and care.

Tackling the effects

The goals of cancer survivorship care include promoting physical and emotional well-being, reducing the risk of late effects, and providing ongoing monitoring for the potential recurrence of cancer or occurrence of secondary cancers. The following can help manage the late effects of cancer:

> The number of cancer survivors has increased tremendously over the past three decades with improvements in healthcare to detect and provide therapeutic treatment

1. Lifestyle changes: Maintaining a healthy lifestyle through regular physical activity, a balanced diet, and stress management techniques such as yoga, meditation, and counselling can help mitigate the impact of late effects and improve both physical and mental well-being.
2. Education: Learnings of the cancer survivor, family, and caregivers regarding future health risks and need for continued surveillance is vital.
3. Rehabilitation and exercise programs: Participation in rehabilitation and exercise programmes can help to improve physical function and address late effects such as fatigue, weakness, and pain.
4. Support groups: Joining a support group of other cancer survivors can provide a source of emotional support and help cancer survivors connect with others who have similar experiences.
5. Communication with the doctor: It is very important for cancer survivors to be in touch with the treating oncology team and communicate openly about any ongoing symptoms or concerns, and discuss any questions or concerns about late effects.
6. Research: Directed towards understanding, preventing, treating long term adverse effects of cancer or its treatment should be followed.
7. Regular follow-ups: Having regular check-ups is the key to staying informed about one's health. By monitoring health status as suggested, cancer survivors can keep track of their well-being, catch any issues early, and receive the right treatment and support as needed. In addition, they can read up about the possible late effects of cancer treatment and the ways to manage them and discuss them with the doctor for solutions.
8. Regulatory support /advocacy: Addressing issues related to disability/ discrimination in employment/insurance, etc., is also a vital aspect of cancer survivorship as it enables the individual to lead an active, financially viable, and productive life.

Scientist develops sensor to detect Covid from sweat

A former student of the Allahabad University claims to have developed a biosensor that can detect Covid-19 infection through sweat samples. Amit Dubey, 34, claims that he has developed the world's first specific, reliable ultra-small gold nanoclusters for biomedical and biosensing applications to detect Covid. His work can lead to a new age of effective and cheaper testing kits capable of detecting Covid-19 using just the sweat of an individual instead of nasal or throat swabs that kits of today need. - IANS

Are Covid vaccines affecting the heart, inducing other non-communicable diseases?

While Covid vaccines are saving lives, side effects have been reported after vaccinations, along with premature non-communicable diseases. Research claims the reported adverse events are low in number. According to WHO, over 850 million cases and 6.6 million deaths from Covid have been reported worldwide. Currently, the death rate has reduced due to the decreased pathogenicity of new SARS-CoV-2 variants, but the major factor in the reduced death rates is the 'administration of over 12.8 billion vaccine doses globally". -IANS

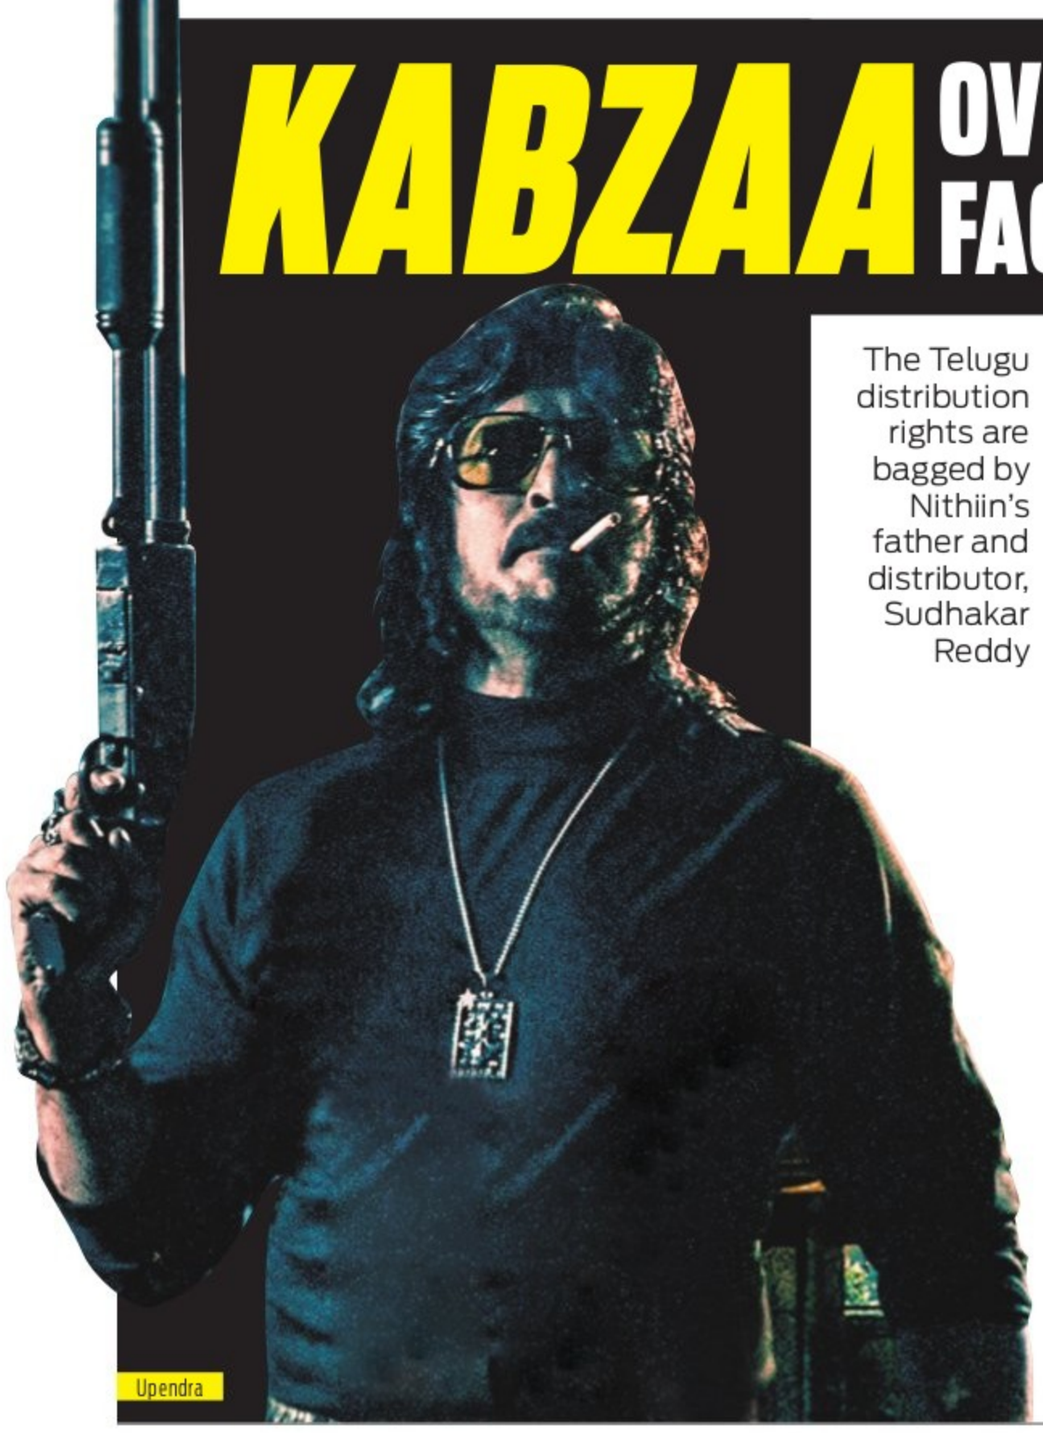
KABZAA OVERSEAS RIGHTS FACE GREAT DEMAND



Upendra

The Telugu distribution rights are bagged by Nithiin's father and distributor, Sudhakar Reddy

A SHARADHAA

DIRECTOR R Chandru feels special to release his pan-Indian film, Kabzaa on Puneeth Rajkumar's birthday (March 17). The multilingual film stars Upendra as the lead and Sudeep in a pivotal role.

Chandru is leaving no stone unturned to reach his film worldwide. The film's satellite and digital rights are in great demand and actor Nithiin's father and well-known distributor, Sudhakar Reddy has bagged the Telugu rights of Kabzaa, and will be releasing the film through Ruchira Entertainmemts and N Cinemas banner.

The distributor is planning an event on February 4, in Hyderabad, where the film's first lyrical song will be launched.

In all likelihood, the event will either have director SS Rajamouli or superstar Chiranjeevi as the chief guest. "A Kannada film, creating this kind of demand is definitely a good sign. This can be proved only with good content and making," says Chandru, who is planning to launch the five songs from the film in different states, and two songs in Karnataka.

Kabzaa will be released in 7 languages and the satellite rights of a few languages have been sold already, and Chandru is on talks for the rest of the languages. The digital rights of certain languages are said to be sold to Amazon for a whopping price, and more details about this will be shared by the producer and director in the coming days.

"The film will also see a wide release outside India, and will release in the most number of theatres abroad," says Chandru, adding, "Distributors across 20 countries have come forward to showcase Kabzaa in their respective cities, and I have closed the deal in 5 countries so far."

Billed to be a gangster period drama set between 1940-80, Kabzaa revolves around an underworld don, played by Upendra. The film, which also stars Shriya Saran, was completely shot in massive sets erected in Bengaluru and Hyderabad.

The film, backed by Chandru under his Sri Siddeshwara Enterprises banner, in association with Alankar Pandian, will be presented by MTB Nagaraj. Kabzaa has music scored by Ravi Basrur, and cinematography by AJ Shetty.

The multilingual film also consists of an ensemble cast that includes actors like Anoop Revanna, Pramod Shetty, Murali Sharma, Jagapathi Babu, Danish Akthar Saifi, Pradeep Rawat, Kabir Duhan Singh Jayaprakash, and Kota Srinivas.

Tanuja is told in the most rightful way: Harish MD Halli

The State award winner talks about his upcoming film, which is slated to release this week

CE FEATURES

HARISH MD Halli, a journalism graduate, with a keen interest in social causes since his college days, was often encouraged by his teacher Ranganath Rao.

Harish bagged a state award winner for his debut Antara Jala, which revolved around social issues, and his new film has been titled, Tanuja. The film is based on a real-life incident starring Saptha Pavoor, and Rajesh Nataranga. The story traces the journey of Tanuja, a farmer's daughter, her struggle to write the NEET exam during the pandemic, and her dream of becoming a surgeon.

Tanuja features real-life politicians like former Chief Minister BS Yeddyurappa, and also Minister Dr K Sudhakar, and noted journalist Vishweshwar Bhatt, who wrote an article helping Tanuja. Harish, speaking ahead of the film's release on February 3, shares a few details about how he went about making Tanuja. "Since I am attracted towards social causes, an article about Tanuja caught my attention, and I felt there was depth in this topic to explore and it can be brought to the silver screen. The entire incident took place on Oct 14, 2020, and an article about it appeared on October 15, in a vernacular. When I read the article, I felt the entire incident right in front of our eyes, and taking place in our neighbourhood. The journey of Tanuja, and her struggle to write the NEET exam during the pandemic time, and how she entered the exam hall in the nick of time, this moments felt exciting to me, and I had the same kind of feeling, when I went through the article each time. What was more thoughtful about Tanuja is the support coming from the teacher, parent, and the bureaucracy, and it turned out to be a good subject. I have brought out pin to pin details in the film, and have diluted the topic with any extras. I have brought out the film as it is. However the film is commercialised in the making, only for audience attraction," he says.

Harish shares that he met Tanuja and her family and took permission to use her name as the title and to make a film, and it was challenging for the director to keep it real, and the way it is. "The sequences used in the film are shot in the original places where the incidents took place, which included Tanuja's journey to the exam hall. Everything was a planned move. Since the ministers coming in the picture had supported Tanuja, I was keen to have them play their particular roles. Initially, it was difficult, but thankfully they obliged."

Harish MD Halli's Tanuja produced under Beyond Vision cinemas has music by Pradyothan and cinematography by Ravindranath T as the cinematographer. Apart from Saptha Pavoor, and Rajesh, the film also consists of mostly new faces and theatre actors.
